

PRINCESS VIROQUA, M. D.

Endorses Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound After Following Its Record For Years.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Health is the greatest boon bestowed on humanity and therefore anything that can restore lost health is a blessing. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a blessing to State and Nation. It cures her mothers and daughters and makes them well and strong."

PRINCESS VIROQUA, Practising Physician and Lecturer. "For fifteen years I have noted the effect of your Vegetable Compound in curing special diseases of women. I know of nothing superior for ovarian trouble, barrenness, and it has prevented hundreds of dangerous operations where physicians claimed it was the only chance to get well. Ulceration and inflammation of the womb has been cured in two or three weeks through its use, and as I find it purely an herbal remedy, I unhesitatingly give it my highest endorsement. —Fraternally yours, Dr. P. Viroqua, Lansing, Mich. —$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine."

If you are ill do not hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. for special advice; it is entirely free.

INQUIRY IS ENDED

SCHLEY CASE IS NOW WITH THE JUDGES.

LAST SESSION HELD TODAY

JUDGE ADVOCATE LEMLY IS LAST TO SPEAK.

URGES GOVERNMENT'S CASE

DISCLAIMS ANY INTENT TO PROSECUTE.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Judge Advocate Samuel C. Lemly today made the concluding argument in the Schley court of inquiry. There was no forenoon session of the court, and the judge advocate did not have an opportunity to begin his address until 2 o'clock. He read from manuscript, but spoke in clear and distinct tones. The first half of the address was devoted to consideration of points made by Mr. Raynor and Captain Parker in Admiral Schley's behalf and the latter half was a general review from the government point of view of the evidence.

CAPTAIN LEMLY BEGINS.

Captain Lemly said: "With the conclusion of the very brief address with which I shall close the argument in this inquiry, my principal connection with it ceases and the matter is left in your capable hands. I may add, that, while my duties here have been arduous and necessarily somewhat painful, I am proud to have been associated with this distinguished court, which is to pass upon one of the most important questions ever considered by a naval court—a question, as I defined it in the early course of the proceeding, between the applicant and the morale of the service. In entering upon my duties as judge advocate of the court, I had in mind advice given me by the secretary of the navy soon after my appointment, as follows: "Admiral Schley asks for a court of inquiry. A perfectly impartial court is constituted. The judge advocate and any counsel assisting him are not (and their duty in this respect is plain) in court to prosecute anybody or to find anybody guilty, but to bring out the facts and aid the court in declaring the truth."

"I have endeavored to follow this advice without fear or favor. If I have appeared to fail in maintaining that impartial attitude which I feel and have always felt towards the applicant, it is because aggression, however natural on the part of earnest counsel, begets aggression, and for the further reason that in many instances honest difference of opinion has compelled me to be earnestly contentious in order to adduce what I believed to be material facts.

DEPARTMENT NEUTRAL.

"I deem it not inappropriate that I should here remark that the navy department in this matter has maintained an entirely neutral attitude; that I have not been interfered with by it in my conduct of the case; that, as the record demonstrates, there has been no alteration of the department's records; that officers on duty even in the much-abused bureau of navigation have freely testified in behalf of the applicant, and I am confident that the evidence adduced fully justified the views of the department, set forth in its reply of February 6, 1899, to the senate committee on naval affairs, wherein it is said of Commodore Schley, referring particularly to the naval battle of July 3, 1898: "Where so much was achieved in this culminating battle and where his ship was such a conspicuous force in the fight, his conduct while in independent command prior to June 1, the record of which has been given above and which, by reason of its unsteadiness in purpose and in push and in failure to obey orders, did not meet the approval of the president and the department; was yet not permitted to stand in the way of his nomination for promotion to a higher grade for the part he took in the final triumph."

SAMPSON LOSES AGAIN.

The Schley court has declined to grant the request made yesterday by Attorney Thell, acting for Admiral Sampson, that the remarks of Captain Parker, concerning the fact that the Spanish steamer Colon lay in the harbor at Santiago for some hours after the arrival there of Admiral Sampson, be stricken from the record. Admiral Dewey, writing for the court, says that this action has been taken after careful consideration.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR DUNN

that I have told nothing but the truth from the start of this case to the finish, and my conscience has been clear from the first. I do not know any more about the death of that girl than one who was never at Wallen."

"You spoke of jury duty; did you ever sit upon a jury in a case of this sort?"

"Not in a murder trial," replied the old man. "I would not sit upon a jury in a case where murder was charged."

Dunn evinced considerable displeasure at the testimony of several witnesses who testified to his bad character, and thought they had been unjust to him, and asserted that nobody could truthfully charge him with the mean acts that had been attributed to him.

He was asked as to his future intentions in the event of an acquittal, and replied:

"I suppose the only thing I can do is to go back to Wallen and look after what business I may have left. My property there has been for sale ever since before I moved there. I took it on a trade and my son has been trying to sell it. I did not own the house we lived in and my household goods have been stored, part of them in the city and part in the mill office at Wallen."

"The newspapers have treated me pretty fairly," said he, as the reporter turned to leave. "I have no complaint upon that score. There is nothing to do now but wait for the finding of the jury. I'm going to do that patiently."

A POWERFUL PLEA.

The closing address on behalf of the state in this case, delivered Wednesday afternoon by Judge Sampson and Mr. Hench, was a powerful effort, masterfully argumentative and delivered with all the force and vigor of Judge Hench's conspicuous ability as an advocate. Through his long professional career in Fort Wayne Judge Hench has participated in many of the cases where capital crime was charged, and while it has been some years since he last appeared as a prosecutor, his effort Wednesday demonstrated that he has lost none of the cleverness, earnestness and force that have always characterized his eminent career. After more than two weeks of daily application to the work of trying the case Judge Hench spoke for four hours, and his appearance at the close bore out his assertion that he was prepared to continue several hours longer if it were necessary.

Considerably more than half of the time Judge Hench devoted to a resume of the testimony in the case, taking up the evidence of each witness for the state and analyzing it to the jury to make clear the application made by the prosecution. In summing it up he said: "The state asks nothing more than that you weigh and investigate all the testimony before you reach a decision. We believe the defendant is guilty, but we are not standing here asking conviction upon any other basis than that the evidence proves him to be guilty." Considerable attention was given to the medical testimony, and Judge Hench then drew a powerful picture of the manner in which the state had claimed the crime was committed, detailing the affair step by step with impressive dramatic power.

Judge Hench asserted that the theory that the girl had fallen into the cistern accidentally was ridiculous, and that neither of the theories of the defense was tenable. He argued, also, that a case had been made out by the state even with the testimony of Marie Sampson omitted from consideration. Then came another portrayal of intense dramatic power as the attorney pictured the deplorable life of Marie Sampson, throwing about her erring ways little of censure but much of pity. He cited the tenderness with which a fallen man who evidenced a desire to reform was received by the world, and contrasted with it the scorn and rebuffs which are the portion of a woman under similar circumstances. In closing Judge Hench briefly sketched again the leading points in the great mass of evidence, and said: "Gentlemen of the jury, you have the case; you have heard all the testimony. Weigh it well. I believe the evidence in this case warrants the finding of Charles Dunn guilty."

JUDGE O'ROURKE'S CHARGE.

There had been profound silence during the delivery of Judge Hench's powerful plea, and as he ceased speaking there was a momentary buzz about the court room. It was soon soothed, however, and without delay Judge O'Rourke began the delivery of his instructions to the jury. The charge was written and Judge O'Rourke read the words slowly and distinctly, while the jurors bent forward to listen.

Judge O'Rourke read the indictment under which Charles Dunn had been on trial, and cited the statutes defining murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree, and manslaughter. He explained that the defendant is presumed to be innocent until the contrary is proved, and where there is a reasonable doubt as to whether his guilt is satisfactorily shown, he must be acquitted. The jurors are judges of the law of the credibility of witnesses, and all reasonable doubts are to be solved in favor of the defendant. A juror ought not to condemn unless the evidence excludes from the mind all reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the accused. It must be such certainty as would justify to the mind action, not only in matters of importance, but in those of the highest import, involving the dearest interests.

Judge O'Rourke explained the methods of procedure in the consideration of the counts of the indictment as relating to degree of crime, and said that before a conviction could be rightfully claimed by the prosecution the truth of every material allegation contained in the indictment must be proved to the satisfaction of the jury beyond a reasonable doubt. Mere preponderance of evidence is not sufficient to convict in a criminal case. The court charged the jury that if the evidence showed Charles Dunn to have killed Alice Corbrell in the attempt to commit rape upon her person, as charged in the indictment, he should be found guilty of murder in the first degree. The jury has no right to disregard the testimony of the defendant on the ground alone that he is the defendant and is charged with the commission of a crime. Judge O'Rourke explained the legal definition of the crime of rape. He stated that each juror acts for himself in coming to a conclusion, and acts upon his own conscience as to the guilt or innocence of the accused. Although it is true that in case any one of the jurors entertains a reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the defendant, he ought not to find him guilty; yet such doubt in the minds of one or more of the jurors ought not to control the actions of other jurors so as to compel them to give a verdict of acquittal if they believe from the evidence the defendant is guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

It is your duty, continued Judge O'Rourke, to consider the good character of the accused, for humanity and kindness of heart, if proven, as an element to be taken into consideration in determining his guilt or innocence, yet if you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt of the guilt of the defendant, the fact of his good character for humanity and kindness of heart, if proven, would not avail him as a defense, nor would it entitle him to an acquittal. As a matter of law, circumstantial evidence is just as legal and just as effective as any other evidence, provided the circumstances are of such character and force as to satisfy the minds of the jury of the defendant's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

Where it is claimed that a witness has been impeached by acts and conduct indicating a want of moral rectitude, and where there is a conflict between such witness and others, it is of the greatest importance to consider all the facts and circumstances attending the conflicting evidence to endeavor to find out the truth, and facts and circumstances support and corroborate the evidence of the witness that it is claimed is impeached on account of immoral acts and conduct, a jury is authorized to receive and act upon the evidence of such witness notwithstanding the acts of immorality and misconduct referred to. Reason, common sense and experience come to our assistance. Such matters may be safely submitted to the intelligence and discrimination of a jury.

In a case like this, where the evidence is all circumstantial, it is necessary, before there can be a conviction, that every necessary link in the chain of circumstances must be proved beyond a reasonable doubt; although some of the circumstances may be clearly proven beyond all reasonable doubt, yet if other necessary circumstances are not proven beyond all reasonable doubt, then you should acquit the defendant.

The court instructed that the fact that the grand jury had returned an indictment against the defendant does not raise any presumption of his guilt, and is not to be considered in arriving at a verdict. Concerning the value of expert testimony, the judge stated that unless the facts upon which the opinion of an expert are established were proved, it would be the duty of the jury to disregard the opinion founded upon them. The evidence bearing upon the moral character of Marie Sampson was to be considered only for the purpose of affecting her credibility. In conclusion, Judge O'Rourke said:

"In order to authorize the conviction of a person of crime a high degree of certainty of proof is necessary—which the law denominates certainty of guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. But while this is true, mathematical or demonstrative certainty is seldom attainable and never required in judicial proceedings. Human tribunals must rest their judgments on the testimony of men and the facts and circumstances attending every transaction submitted to their determination. The best evidence obtainable to decide a case is required and in a criminal case such evidence should produce in the mind moral certainty to the exclusion of reasonable doubt. In the determination of every question submitted to a court, relying upon human testimony, there is a possibility of making a mistake. But while this is true, we must continue to decide questions of fact submitted to us, employing the best lights we may have to discover the truth."

It was 3:30 o'clock when Judge O'Rourke completed his charge and the jurors retired to their room to begin their deliberations.

WORK OF THE BAILIFF.

During a trial of this magnitude an important position is that occupied by the bailiff—in the present case Joseph N. Mason, who for nearly six years has been bailiff of the Allen county circuit court. From the time the jury is impaneled until the jurors are discharged they are under the continuous charge of the bailiff. He lives with them, sees that their needs are supplied, accompanies them upon the walks for exercise and stands a barrier between the jurors and the inquisitive public. It is a tiresome task, second alone to that of the jurors themselves, but in the present instance the duty has been tirelessly and conscientiously performed. This is the third trial for murder at which Mr. Mason has been in charge of the jury and he is unfailingly attentive and courteous, though unceasingly vigilant, and has done his duty well. His courtesy to the newspaper men in the court room has been highly appreciated by the writers who have been at work upon the case, and Mr. Mason has been ably assisted by John Dailey, another veteran at the work.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous membrane, such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the danger they will do is too great for the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cline & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine, as it is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio by F. J. Cline & Co. Testimonials from Hall's Catarrh Cure are on file at the office of Dr. J. C. Felt, 116 Calhoun Street, Fort Wayne, Ind.

THE DEATHS.

HUME.

Mrs. Anna P. Hume, residing at 260 Hoagland avenue, died this afternoon at 2:30 from apoplexy. Mrs. Hume was 78 years old and leaves three sons and two daughters: Dr. Charles, of Anadarko, I. T.; Frank and Will, of Medina, Mich.; Miss Alice Hume and Mrs. O. B. Fish, of this city. Mrs. Hume has resided in Fort Wayne for ten years. She was born in Bergen, N. Y., and was the widow of the late Frederick E. Hume, who died twenty-four years ago. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

GOSSIP IN POEM AND STORY.

Rev. A. H. S. Preston, of Wayne street Methodist Episcopal church, will talk for the next three Sunday evenings on the following subjects: Nov. 10th, "James Whitcomb Riley and His Poems of the Heart;" Nov. 17th, "Lito Mehma; a Tale of Old Florence, by George Eliot;" Nov. 24th, "Eugene Field and His Poems of the Soul."

SCORES MORGAN AS TO WINE.

Baltimore, Nov. 7.—J. Pierpont Morgan has been publicly criticised from the pulpit because of the wine he drinks. Rev. J. S. B. Hedges, of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of this city, heard that Mr. Morgan's wine cost $25 a bottle, and so he formulated a sermon, taking for his subject the lavish entertainment of Mr. Morgan's guests, of whom Dr. Hedges was one, at the recent church convention in San Francisco.

Dr. Hedges told how the banker had leased the Crocker mansion at San Francisco and spent from $50 to $100 a day on floral decoration and wine. How much of this went for wine at $25 a bottle or how far the wine went among the guests or how much was left for flowers the rector did not say.

Mr. Morgan's grocery bill was $200 a day, too, according to the rector of St. Paul's, who concluded with this remark:

"I think we will all agree that these dinners were of too lavish a character and I regret very much that Mr. Morgan did not live in a more simple manner while at San Francisco."

RATHBONE STRIPPED.

Hamilton, Ohio, Nov. 7.—Judge Thompson, in the case of Mrs. Kate C. Minor against Major Estes C. Rathbone, formerly director of Cuban posts, has handed down a decision which cancels mortgages given by Mrs. Minor when she purchased from Rathbone an interest in the Riley block in this city. This decision cleans up the last of Rathbone's assets, which, ten years ago, amounted to $250,000.

WILL YOU WALK INTO MY PARLOR . . .

Is what the spider said and is what some flashy "ads" are saying to Fort Wayne people. Do you remember when we were little children, we were taught, "A man of words and not of deeds, is like a garden full of weeds." When we say that we sell you underwear at 38c that no one else can sell you less than 50c, we tell the truth. Come and see, even if you don't want to buy. We did not deceive you when we told you we were giving a boy's long black hose for 10c, worth over twice the price—14c dozen of them just received. Don't let the boy's feet get cold. Our dollar underwear is 50c below our competitors. Our 38c work shirts are 12c below others. We have great values in every department.

OUR BARGAINS IN UNDERWEAR are no lottery. They are real, live bargains. They are a thing of the present.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Foster were recipients of an invitation to the marriage of Miss Helen Willard Parker and Henry Kellogg Willard, of Washington, which was solemnized at noon Wednesday in that city. The groom is a unique character and is said to be a second Russell Sage. Although a millionaire in his own right, Mr. Willard spends little on the frivolities of life and is very reserved in his intercourse with the world. The wedding was unique inasmuch as Mr. Willard had no best man, his aged mother being his only attendant. Mr. Willard was a classmate of Samuel M. Foster, of this city, at Yale.

SHOULDN'T BE PRINTED.

The committee appointed at the meeting of the Ministerial association on Monday in the Berry Street M. E. church, was for the purpose of expressing the mind of the association in regard to the discriminative publication of the details of the Dunn case, and not on the moral phase of the case as stated. A number of the ministers deprecated the publication of some of the evidence, and the committee will make a report at the next meeting of the association.

SCHOOL SITE PAID FOR.

The school city of Fort Wayne is now the full owner of the property at Lewis and Barr streets, where the new high school building will be erected next spring and summer. When the purchase was made $5,000 was paid down and yesterday Trustee W. W. Rockhill paid over to Miss Margaret Hamilton $20,000, the balance of the purchase money. Work on the new building will be commenced as early in the spring as the weather will allow.

FOOD FOR GIRLS.

Should Be Fed Just Right When Growing.

When parents are at a loss to know what kind of food to supply their boys and girls it will interest them to know of the experience of some mothers in the selection of food that actually does rebuild and nourish the young folks in their school duties.

A school girl in Springfield, Mass., writes: "I wonder if you care to hear from school girls, and I wonder, too, if you have any idea how many girls there are who are troubled as I was before I used Grape-Nuts Food."

"About a year ago I began to have severe headaches and could not sleep well. Was so nervous that I would cry at the least little thing, and finally began to have attacks of faintness. My parents were much alarmed and thought I would be obliged to give up studying. Our physician said my trouble was extreme nervousness and a disordered stomach."

"I was tired all the time and rode home from school because I did not feel able to walk. Mother tried to tempt my appetite in every way. Breakfast I did not care for. Meat I could not endure, and the different cereals I did not like as a rule."

"I attended the high school and we have an excellent lunch room in the building. As I kept getting worse, mamma said: 'I am going to try this Grape-Nuts Food that I see advertised, but I am afraid you will not like it.' Well, she got a package of it and it was so delicious in taste, with a little cream poured over it, that I liked it at once, and since then Grape-Nuts has formed the principal part of my breakfast. I have also banana and orange, with now and then an egg."

"I wish you could see the difference in me. I cannot tell how much I have gained in weight, for I did not know my weight when I was ill, but the difference is great. As for strength, I walk both ways to school and do not feel at all weary from it."

"I can study much better and am entirely free from headaches; I am so well, in fact, that I am very happy. I fall asleep almost as soon as my head touches the pillow, and rest thoroughly."

"I am afraid my letter is lengthy, but my subject is Grape-Nuts, of which I cannot say too much." Clara L. Condon.

The mother adds to this letter: "I would like to add just a line expressing my gratitude also for the benefits which my daughter has derived from Grape-Nuts. Respectfully," Mrs. I. C. Condon.

DENTISTRY.

ECZEMA'S ITCH IS TORTURE.

Eczeema is caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing great redness and inflammation; little pustular eruptions form and discharge a thin, sticky fluid, which dries and scales off; sometimes the skin is hard, dry and fissured. Eczeema in any form is a tormenting, stubborn disease, and the itching and burning at times are almost unbearable; the acid burning humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire. Salves, washes nor other external applications do any real good, for as long as the poison remains in the blood it will keep the skin irritated.

BAD FORM OF TETTER.

"For three years I had Tetters on my hands, which caused them to swell to twice their natural size. Part of the time the disease was in the form of running sores, very painful, and causing me much discomfort. Four doctors said the Tetters had progressed too far to be cured, and they could do nothing for me. I took only three bottles of S. S. S. and was completely cured. This was fifteen years ago, and I have never since seen any signs of my old trouble."—Mrs. L. H. JACKSON, 711 N. Second St., Kansas City, Mo.

DUNN'S OWN TALK

LED JURORS TO BELIEVE ACCUSED MAN GUILTY.

HOW THE BALLOTING RAN

STRONG SENTIMENT WAS IN FAVOR OF HANGING.

BOY AND GIRL DISCHARGED

DUNN IN NO WISE CAST DOWN BY THE FINDING.

It may have been the words of Charles Dunn himself, dropped from his lips during the searching fire of cross-examination, that made his conviction a certainty. This is one of the interesting facts elicited in casual talks with the jurors after they had returned their verdict and been discharged, and serves to illustrate how closely the twelve men were watching every point in the case during the days of its development.

The utterance which was regarded by the jurors with most deep significance was made at the time Prosecutor Emrick was questioning the accused man concerning the visit of the Huntertown gentlemen to his home Sunday evening with the fixed determination to search the cistern beneath the kitchen. Dunn himself had described the meeting at the gate, the discussion there, and the start for the house with Ballou and Noonan to make the search. Dunn said he stopped for a moment upon the way to pick up the garden rake.

"What did you do that for?" asked Mr. Emrick.

"To get the girl's body out with," was the instantaneous response of the accused man, who, however, quickly followed it with other conversation, and the possible significance of the remark escaped the vast majority of those who heard the testimony.

ATTORNEYS SAW IT.
Not so, however, with the state's attorneys and some of the court officials. Reporter Underwood has the reply in his notes, and the state's attorneys say they were positive at the time that the jurors had noted it. It is entirely probable, also, that Mr. Dunn's attorneys also saw the remark, and each side—the state under the belief that the jury had caught it, and the defense under the belief that the state's attorneys had not noted it—believed it wise to make no further reference to it. It was not dwelt upon in the arguments, though Judge Hench made especial reference to Dunn's pause at the time of the occurrence, but did not refer to his statements.

It transpires, however, that practically every one of the jurors had been quick to grasp Dunn's words, which may have been an unconscious slip of the tongue, and they evidently accepted them as evidence of the man's guilty fore-knowledge of the fact that the body was in the cistern. When the last ballot had decided upon a verdict of guilty, one of the jurors remarked to his fellows:

"That's a just verdict, and I'll tell you why I am so positive." He then referred to Dunn's answer to the prosecutor's question, and it was quickly evident that all had attached deep importance to the words of the accused man.

HOW IT WAS REACHED.
While as is usually the case in trials of this magnitude, there is a reticence upon the part of the jurors to talk of the deliberations in the jury room, some interesting information in that connection was picked up after the jurors had been discharged and were preparing to leave for their homes.

It is stated upon excellent authority that from almost the first ballot taken the large majority favored the verdict of guilty as charged. The proportion, it is believed, at the outset was 9 to 3. The first ballot was taken as soon as they retired for deliberation. Then came a discussion of perhaps fifteen minutes, and the second ballot was taken. Others followed during the night and forenoon at irregular intervals—some of them as long as two hours apart. At no time, it is believed, were more than three votes in favor of acquittal. Fourteen ballots had been taken to the middle of the afternoon, and it had then reached 11 to 1 for conviction. On the succeeding ballots one of those who had favored conviction voted blank, and the result then showed that the one who had favored acquittal changed his vote. The juror who cast the blank ballot did so again to test the permanence of the other juror's change, and when the result was unchanged the blank man resumed his vote for conviction and when the ballots were counted the twelve were for conviction. This was about the noon hour.

The question of punishment was taken up as soon as the jurors had finished their dinners, and it is stated that on the first ballot seven favored the death penalty. Discussion followed, and in the succeeding ballots, taken at intervals of about fifteen minutes, those who had voted for hanging dropped over one by one, and it is said that the two who were last to change their ballots from hanging were among the trio that had at first voted for acquittal, and it is believed that their earlier votes were more in the nature of a reconnaissance to determine where the balance of the jurors stood than with an idea of clinging to the position to the end. About thirty ballots were taken. So far as can be learned there was a remarkable unanimity among the jurors, and absolutely no unpleasantness. One of them said at the close: "We did what we believed was absolutely right. We believed we had the evidence, and the verdict is endorsed by our consciences."

WHAT DUNN SAID.
Perhaps coolest among the crowd present in the court room was the convicted man himself. As Dunn was taken down the elevator and out through the sheriff's office a few minutes after the words of the verdict had been read to him, he noticed a very large St. Bernard dog, and remarked:

"What a log of bologna that fellow would make!"

Asked his opinion of the verdict while on his way back to the jail, Dunn said:

"That's about what you could expect from a jury, but I don't see how they could ever reach such a verdict from the evidence. But the case is not ended yet; it is not my nature to give up. We will ask for a new trial and if this is denied, the case will be carried to the supreme court."

Seen at the county jail this morning, Dunn had lost none of either his cheerfulness or his complacency, and he assured a reporter for The Sentinel that he had slept soundly, and that the adverse verdict had affected neither his ability to sleep nor his appetite. "You can tell the people that I haven't got the blues yet," said he.

Concerning the motion for a new trial and the appeal of the case to the supreme court, the prisoner was not inclined to be so communicative as on last evening, for when the question was asked he replied:

"I cannot say definitely, but it is hardly probable that it will be allowed to stop here. But I have not seen any attorneys and the matter is, of course, in their hands. I expect them to spend a part of the afternoon with me, and we will then decide what to do next."

Mr. Dunn declined to express his opinion of the verdict today, though his tone convinced one that he had an opinion of very forcible character upon the subject. Asked if he expected it, he said:

"No; the very worst I expected was

WILL YOU WALK INTO MY PARLOR

Is what the spider said and is what some flashy "ads" are saying to Fort Wayne people. Do you remember when we were little children, we were taught, "A man of words and not of deeds, is like a garden full of weeds." When we say that we sell you underwear at 38c that no one else can sell you less than 50c, we tell the truth. Come and see, even if you don't want to buy. We did not deceive you when we told you we were giving a boy's long black hose for 10c, worth over twice the price—144 dozen of them just received. Don't let the boy's feet get cold. Our dollar underwear is 50c below our competitors. Our 38c work shirts are 12c below others. We have great values in every department.

OUR BARGAINS IN UNDERWEAR are no lottery. They are real, live bargains. They are a thing of the present.

Boston Doctors are Friendly.

The Boston doctors work together in the Suffolk Dispensary in giving free aid to the worthy poor and while using Athlo-phoros have noticed such wonderful effects in relieving and curing rheumatism that they are prescribing Athlo-phoros in their private practice. The doctors are slow to recommend an advertised remedy, and will never do so, unless the remedy has very great merit. Athlo-phoros will relieve any case of rheumatism and can be bought of any druggist or of the Company direct.

A MANUFACTURER'S CLUB.

The organization of the Manufacturer's club was completed last evening at the Wayne hotel, and there are now thirty-six of the leading manufacturers of the city on the rolls. A committee was appointed to secure suitable meeting rooms, and they will report at the next meeting at the Wayne hotel, Saturday evening, November 16th. The club will have monthly social gatherings for members only. The club will be entertained at the homes of the different members of the club until suitable quarters are provided. The officers are: Samuel M. Foster, president; O. N. Guldin, first vice president; Van B. Perrine, second vice president; T. F. Thieme, secretary; Albert S. Bond, treasurer.

"SPATCH-COCK" EXPLAINED.

Many people have been wondering how the word "spatch-cock," used by General Buller, comes to mean "sandwiched in between." At a dabbunglow in India you see a "chicken" running about, and in ten minutes you are eating him "spatch-cooked." He has been slain, dipped in hot water to assist the plucking, and has his breast bone flattened down and is grilled as flat as a chop, without the flesh ever being allowed to cool. He is supposed to "eat" less tough in that way than any other—London Chronicle.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA

TABLETS.

There is a cure for dyspepsia. Sufferers who have tried noxious nostrums will probably be skeptical but skepticism vanishes when Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are tried. Whether the trouble is dyspepsia of long standing, or merely a simple case of indigestion, relief is prompt and pronounced. The less the trouble the fewer tablets need be taken.

Heaviness after eating, sour stomach, as indicated by belching, fatigue with slight exertion or with no exertion at all, disturbed sleep, nervousness, constipation, depression, "blues," these things can commonly be set down as symptoms of dyspepsia. And dyspepsia is merely indigestion in an aggravated form.

By promoting perfect digestion, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet produces strong nerves, restful, refreshing sleep, pure blood and good sound healthy flesh. They make the skin clear, the eyes bright, the mind cheerful.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a medicine and more than a medicine. They digest the food and make it easy of assimilation, and they relieve the inflamed, diseased condition of the membranous linings and the glands of the stomach and bowels. They help the digestive organs over the hard places, and put them into a healthy, active condition. They effect a quick and permanent cure. You don't have to continue taking them forever, still it is well to have a box handy and take one at the first return of the trouble.

Perfectly well people are made sick by eating too much, or unwholesome food, but not if they take a tablet after eating. Treatment with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets does not necessitate dieting or any change of habits. They digest the proper food and act upon the other kind in such a way as to make it pass off quickly and harmlessly. You may eat and drink what you like, when you like, and as much as you like if you take a tablet afterwards.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at 50 cents for full size package.

Rev. Haines, of Garrett, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Beaver.

Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette McWilliams, of Chicago, are at the Wayne.

Mrs. A. E. Jacoby and daughter, Helen, are visiting relatives in the city.

Mrs. Tillie Schulties, of Lima, Ohio, is visiting her sisters, the Misses Eckart.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Gillette have left for visits in Bronson and Coldwater, Mich.

Mrs. G. P. Hazlett and children, Ella, Eva and Day, are home from an extended visit in Michigan.

Mrs. J. W. McCarthy and the Misses Ellen and Katherine Daly are home from Davenport, Iowa.

Mrs. Pietro Cuneo, of Upper Sandusky, Ohio, has returned home after a visit with relatives in the city.

The Home Defenders will hold a temperance meeting at the South Congregational church this evening.

The quarterly reception of the First Presbyterian church has been postponed until the latter part of the month.

Miss Tena Martin, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Laurent, of Montpelier, are the guests of friends in Chicago.

John W. Vordermark entertained a few friends at a stag party on Wednesday evening. The affair was arranged by Mrs. Vordermark.

Huntington Herald: "Miss Frony Farling and Miss Alice Burns have gone to Fort Wayne to accept situations in the shirt waist factory."

Members of Harmony lodge, I. O. O. F., with their wives and families, enjoyed a delightful social session and entertainment at the lodge rooms last evening.

The Washington Township Bird and Game association will meet at school house No. 6 on Saturday evening.

Alexander Johnson will address the meeting.

Mrs. J. M. Barrett entertained at duplicate whist yesterday afternoon, the guests of honor being Mrs. James Taylor, of Newburg, N. Y., and Miss Nelson, of Logansport.

Lieutenant Governor Gilbert was in the city yesterday. On Saturday he will meet Harry New at Detroit and the two will spend several weeks hunting in northern Michigan.

Superintendent Montague, in charge of the force that is erecting a Page fence along the Southwestern right-of-way, is seriously ill from appendicitis at St. Joseph hospital.

Miss Ella Brinker and Arthur Goings were married at St. Paul's Catholic church yesterday morning by Father Kroll. The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock and the couple were attended by a brother and sister of the bride.

Invitations have been received in the city for the marriage of Oscar F. Lindorf to Miss Johanna Marie Sjoberg, which will be solemnized in New York city November 27. Mr. Lindorf was formerly connected with the Fort Wayne Electric works and has many friends in this city.

R. H. Alexander, of this city, has received a letter from his son, L. F. Alexander, now manager of the wall paper department of the Florida Paint Manufacturing company, Jacksonville, Fla., an extensive establishment, which is preparing to install a large paint manufactory in Charleston, an enterprise in which young Mr. Alexander is to have an important place in a managerial capacity. The young man was formerly in the employ of L. O. Hull in this city, but some time ago went south, where he has achieved a remarkable degree of success.

MRS. CHARLES LANIER DEAD.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Safford left Thursday evening for Statesboro, Ga., in response to a telegram apprising them of the death of Mrs. Charles Lanier, a sister of Mrs. Safford. Mrs. Lanier will be widely remembered in Fort Wayne as formerly Miss Luella Boles, of this city, and death was due to throat trouble. Mrs. Lanier had been in poor health for nearly a year and the death of her little daughter last spring proved a sorrow that only added to the seriousness of her condition. In August last a son was born, but the mother has slowly failed since that time and her condition had been regarded as critical for several weeks. News of her death will be deeply painful to a large number of acquaintances in Fort Wayne. It is probable the interment will occur at her southern home.

LECTURE TONIGHT.

This evening at Plymouth church the first of the series of lectures will be given and the speaker will be Rev. J. W. Bailey, D. D., father of Rev. J. Webster Bailey, of Plymouth church.

Dr. Bailey is from Topeka, Kan., and is spending a few weeks with his son. The subject this evening will be "Our Country's Place and Mission as Revealed in Prophecy," and there will be special music. Dr. Bailey made a most favorable impression yesterday afternoon in his address before the union missionary meeting in the Baptist Tabernacle.

Ask Him

Ask your doctor what he thinks of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He knows the formula, so ask him if there is anything better for purifying the blood, strengthening the digestion, and building up the nerves. Follow his advice, whatever it may be.

"I have taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla every spring since 1848. As a blood-purifying and nerve-strengthening medicine it cannot be equalled."

THE RAW FOOD HABIT.

Just now the raw food diet threatens to become a fad. Certainly many people are experimenting with this new dietetic idea. It would be far better for the average man or woman to adopt an absolutely raw diet, and eat everything which he could possibly eat or relish in a perfectly raw state, than to swallow into his stomach the horrible messes which are concocted by the average cook. It is safer on the whole for man to take his food as he finds it: in its natural state than to take it as he finds it on the table of the average boarding house or hotel. In other words, it is far safer for man to receive his food straight from the hands of his Maker than from the hands of a French cook.—Good Health.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

TALKED OF CHARITIES.

Supt. Alexander Johnson, of the home for feeble minded, has returned from Muncie, where he was invited to address the people on the work of associated charities. Sunday morning Mr. Johnson spoke to a large congregation in the First Presbyterian church in that city, delivering a very eloquent and thoughtful address. Sunday evening he spoke to a great mass meeting of citizens in the opera house, setting forth the need for return to old-time neighborly charity, the kind that helps the unfortunate to help themselves. Muncie newspapers devote much space to Mr. Johnson's addresses and speak glowingly of the good effect of his labors in that city.

A GIRL'S TALE.

With a Reason for Misleading the Father.

"We have tried for a long time to persuade papa that perhaps his diet had something to do with his ill feelings; he used to laugh good naturedly and say 'why girls, I've been used to eating and drinking ever since I was a boy; I was trained that way; no, I fear some change has taken place in my body and I shall never be well again.'"

"We often suggested that he leave off coffee and tobacco, but he urged that they did not hurt him and were a comfort; so we acquiesced, until one day sister insisted on making the coffee half Postum Food Coffee, and it was made that way for about ten days, until papa seemed brighter and complained less of his head."

"That's it!" sister exclaimed, and from that day she served Postum alone without any coffee.

"Papa never detected the difference, for we have learned the secret of making Postum to give it a prime, crisp flavor; it is easy enough. Just allow it to continue boiling 15 minutes, counting from the time boiling commences, not from the time it is placed on the stove."

"Well, the dear old soul seemed day by day to take on new life; he began to stay at the office later and was full of fun when he came home in the evening."

"The proof is plain enough that, morning after morning, year in and year out, we had been feeding our dear old governor with coffee that is really a strong liquid drug, and it was gradually but surely killing him."

"When it was partially removed he got a little better and when it was entirely removed and the pure food coffee, Postum, served, his recovery was rapid."

"We don't fool papa on many things, but we just had to this time for he was steadily and surely leaving us, and we love the dear old man too much to leave anything undone that will keep him here."

"It is woman's privilege, you know, to tease, cajole and beg, then 'finesse' if the dear old hard headed things won't listen to reason."

"I am pledged solely to consider the interests of the city and that will be my sole guide in making appointments." So said Seth Low in speaking of some appointments he will have to make. It will be a pledge not difficult for Mayor Low to keep. His victory was not a partisan triumph and he is hand-free to name the best men he can get to serve the people of New York. When municipalities generally adopt the rule of electing men and not political parties to run local government they will begin to get more for the taxes they pay.

HON. J. D. SARNIGHAUSEN.

The death of Hon. J. D. Sarnighausen removes a conspicuous figure from the citizenship of Fort Wayne. While the death of the venerable German editor has not been unexpected, the reality of it will cause grief in many hearts. He had personally endeavored himself to a very great number of those of our people who are of German birth or extraction. It is doubtful if there is among all the older of our German citizens one who had not the personal acquaintance of Mr. Sarnighausen. He was a genial man of so many engaging personal traits that friendship was the inevitable consequence of contact with him.

For thirty-nine years Mr. Sarnighausen had been identified with his newspaper, the Indiana Staats-Zeitung, and actively so until failing health obliged him to give up the arduous work of the editorial desk. But he did not cease to interest himself in his newspaper nor in public affairs, of which he held to the last a firm and comprehensive grasp.

John D. Sarnighausen was a man of scholarly attainments, intellectual power and culture and strong character. He exerted a wide and powerful influence and was a force in public affairs. He ranked high as a journalist and was widely known in the United States. He will be greatly missed and sincerely mourned by an unusually large circle of personal friends in this city and elsewhere.

LAY OUT A NEW CITY ROUTE

FORT WAYNE COMPANY WANTS STREET FRANCHISES.

Will Construct Competing System and Give Four-Cent Fare—Plan is Comprehensive.

Councilman Ehrman's special committee, appointed by the committee of the whole, to report on interurban terminals as proposed by a local syndicate represented by R. H. Hanna, held a meeting yesterday afternoon at which the detailed plan was submitted for councilman consideration. As stated after the previous meeting last week, at which Frank DeHass Robinson was present, the revenue possible to derive from interurban business alone on a terminal line would be inadequate to pay running expenses, to say nothing of interest on the investment. If the scheme was to be taken up at all, as a business investment, it was at once seen that interurban business would have to be made one of the features of the new terminal lines. The plan submitted to the committee and for which a franchise will in all probability be asked contemplates reaching every part of the city not now reached by the Fort Wayne Traction company's lines, as well as a number of pairs already reached, where the two lines would come in competition. The new system contemplates a line on Brackenridge street and Fairfield avenue to connect with the Southwestern system, thence north on Harrison and winding up with a loop up east on Berry street to Barr, south to Wayne and then west on Wayne to Harrison again. This would give the down town line and loop and would solve the Southwestern question. Other lines are projected east as far as Walton and Pioneer avenues to meet the Lima road; south on Fairfield avenue and Hanna streets to the city limits to meet incoming lines from Decatur and Bluffton; a northwestern line taking in Van Buren, High, Pope and St. Marys avenue and other streets, and in fact making a complete network of lines, more comprehensive than the present system. The new company proposes to do anything asked in the way of street paving, to make a straight four-cent fare with seven tickets for a quarter, to carry interurban passengers and give transfers for two cents apiece, and to accept transfers from any company upon equal division of the fares. The proposition was reported to the committee of the whole last night and was referred to the council without action or recommendation. The committee of the whole then took up the Southwestern proposition, which was pretty generally discussed until 11:30 without any conclusion being arrived at.

It was finally agreed to take a recess until next Monday night when a report of some kind will be formulated to be presented to the council on Tuesday night. Councilman Bauer offered several amendments, but as they are already incorporated in the revised proposition of the Southwestern company, which proposition is still on the council table, no specific action on the amendments was taken and Mr. Bauer did not press them.

THE PROPOSITION.

The proposition of the company presented by Mr. Hanna was as follows: To Edward J. Ehrman, Edward J. Lennon, William Griebel, Edward C. Miller, Bernard Borkenstein, Peter Eggemann, William Doehrmann, Henry C. Zollinger, as a special committee appointed by the committee of the whole of the common council of the city of Fort Wayne, Ind.; The undersigned having arranged to incorporate for the purpose of constructing a terminal in the city of Fort Wayne, Allen county, Ind., for the common benefit of all interurban roads, and for local traffic, and for building, acquiring and operating street railroads in said city, they desire for such corporation the right to construct, equip, operate and maintain a single or double track railway with necessary switches, curves, turnouts and connections to be operated by electric or other motive power except steam, subject to the right in favor of all interurban railways entering this city with the consent of its authorities to have their passengers, mail, express and freight transported over the same on substantially equal terms. Using for the purpose the following streets as rapidly as required:

Harrison street, from Locust to Taber.
Taber street, from Harrison to Calhoun.

Pioneer avenue, from Walton to city limits, and such other streets as will best subserve the interests of the city of Fort Wayne.

For such privilege the city shall have the right to limit the compensation required of its citizens by such corporation for carriage within the city limits to a four cent fare or seven tickets for 25 cents for passage to and from the center of such street railway system with transfers to any of one of its own lines, and to the lines of any other company which will give and accept transfers for equal division of fare, and to limit the compensation paid by any interurban railway company for transfers of cars with or without passengers upon and over the tracks of said corporation, as follows—every passenger to or from any point on such interurban line from or to the center of such corporation's street railway system, two cents each way. For every combination car, 50 cents additional, and for every car not carrying passengers, one dollar each way to and from the interurban terminal; provided that for every mile in excess of two, an additional fifty cents per car or fraction thereof, may be collected, and that not less than twelve cars per day, of all kinds, shall be furnished by each interurban line for transportation by said corporation.

The paving of that part of the street occupied by the tracks of said corporation including twelve inches outside the rails, shall be done by said corporation under the direction of the city engineer and maintained in as good condition as the remainder of the street with the same material, except by the city's consent to use a different material, and that part of bridge floors occupied by the tracks of said company shall be maintained by it as well as the remainder thereof is maintained.

Said corporation shall indemnify the said city against the payment of any damages accruing from the voluntary acts of said corporation and its servants, in the construction and operation of said railway, by a continuing bond in such sum as required of other railways.

The kind of cars and character of material carried therein within the city limits for any interurban or suburban line shall be such as the city in its contract with the owners of such line may prescribe.
Said corporation will agree and bind itself with the city of Fort Wayne to issue transfer tickets from any one of its lines to any one line of the present Fort Wayne Traction company's lines and will accept any transfer ticket issued by said present traction company over any one of its lines. Said transfer tickets to be equally divided into equal cash propositions, or receipts by said two companies.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

The renumbering of Calhoun street was completed today on the books in the engineer's office and all the notices have been filled out. This means that any person living on or doing business on Calhoun street can get their new numbers on application.

at the office in the city hall. The new order will be rather embarrassing at first, but after the system is once inaugurated it will be found very handy. A few instances might be interesting: The county jail will be known as Nos. 412-414 Calhoun street; Hamilton bank, 630; Aveline house corner, 801; Rich-hotel, 1228-1230; Harmon house, 1522-1530; southeast corner of Calhoun and Creighton, 2301, and so on. The last number on Calhoun street is at the corner of Richardson avenue, being 3832. A new case of scarlet fever has been reported at No. 381 Lafayette street.

There was little business done at the meeting of the board of works last night, being confined to the passing of resolutions for several minor sidewalks in the east end and an alley sewer in the Ninth ward.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kiner, of Fairfield avenue, a son.

HAVE HEARD NO WORD.

No word has yet been received from the relatives of May Fosbinder, the young woman who died yesterday at the home of J. N. Study as a result of morphine taken with suicidal intent. The relatives live at Oldenburg, Ind., and until they respond no funeral arrangements can be made.

BALLASTING IS DONE.

General Manager S. L. Nelson, of the Fort Wayne and Southwestern electric line, announced this afternoon that the ballasting of the road between this city and Huntington was completed, and the workmen are now engaged in filling up the switches.

Miss Mary Rebecca Cody left yesterday for Denver, Col., on a business and pleasure trip. Miss Cody expects to be gone some time.

A Grocer's Sermon for 1901

Are you satisfied with the prices you are paying and the quality of goods you are getting? Do you trade with a real live Cash Grocer, or with a 50 per cent. Profit Pass Book, paying two for one; one profit for the goods you buy, and one for the other man that cannot pay at all?

The age of the tallow candle, the mule team and the windmill is forgotten; the day of gas, steam, monthly pay and half profit is fast whirling by. The era of electricity and Cash is right before us. If you do not and can not buy for cash, you can scan the following price list if only to show the ruinous and reckless rate of interest that pass book purchases involve and the little fortune that escapes you every year by dealing at stores that cannot offer the real live solid bargains in this age of close and withering competition.

NOTE TO THE PUBLIC.

There is no business which can afford more real pleasure and satisfaction than photography; at the same time there is no business which is so little understood by the general public.

In bringing in either the sweet little baby or the aged grandfather to be photographed scarcely one person in a hundred thinks there is anything to do but go to the studio, put them in front of the camera and have the photographer press the button.

We are positive that a more thorough knowledge of the principles and methods employed by the most successful photographers will be of great help to the people in general and enable them to obtain much more satisfactory results. In proof of this conviction we will publish a series of articles through the columns of The Sentinel which will not only be interesting but also very instructive.

We believe that our business can be benefited by advertising and we want it understood that these articles are an advertisement for the Parrot Studio; we do not believe that the kind of advertising that pays a mercantile house could be successfully employed by us. We believe that the education of the people to the fact that there is a difference in photographs and that it lies largely with the people themselves as to what kind of pictures they will get and that by co-operating with us they can obtain photographs far more perfect than otherwise would be possible.

ESTABLISHED 1833. FORT WAYNE, IND., THURSDAY, NOV. 7, 1901. PRICE TWO CENTS

A LIFE SENTENCE FOR DUNN

After Twenty Hours' Deliberation the Jury Finds the Aged Man Guilty of Murder.

HE HEARS HIS DOOM STOICALLY

Without Sign of Emotion He Hears the Verdict Read Fixing Upon Him Stigma of Little Cottrell Girl's Murder--The Scene in the Court House.

Charles Dunn has been found guilty of the murder of little Alice Cottrell at Wallen in July last, and the jury has fixed his punishment at life imprisonment in the state's prison. The verdict was returned by the jury this afternoon.

It was about 2 o'clock that a request from the jury room called Bailiff Mason to the door. In a moment he returned, whispered to Judge O'Rourke, and left the room to notify the attorneys in the case. No one in the court room, aside from Judge O'Rourke, had more than a suspicion of what was coming. Outside the word passed quickly, however, and in a short time spectators began arriving rapidly. One by one came the attorneys and newspaper men. Dunn himself entered later in charge of Sheriff Stout. The prisoner walked rapidly across the room to his seat, carrying his overcoat upon his arm, and the slight flush in his face was the only addition noted to his calm demeanor through the entire trial. He sat down beside the junior counsel for the defense, Mr. Morris.

The jurors filed into the jury box at 2:15 o'clock, headed by Mr. Bart. There was a moment of quiet, and Mr. Zeimner leaned forward and handed a folded document to Bailiff Mason, who passed it to Judge O'Rourke. He read it and then said: "Gentlemen, listen to the reading of your verdict."

READING THE VERDICT.

"We, the jury, find the defendant, Charles Dunn, guilty of murder in the first degree as charged in the indictment. And we further find that he be imprisoned in the state's prison during his life."

"Is this your verdict?" asked Judge O'Rourke.

"Yes," answered the foreman.

"So say you all?"

Each juror answered in the affirmative.

As the reading of the words which consigned Charles Dunn to prison for life progressed, there was a stillness as of death in the court room, which had rapidly filled up with spectators who had heard that a verdict had been reached. The scene was an impressive one and every eye was turned upon the gray-haired old man who had been tried by a jury of his peers and found guilty of the murder of ten-year-old Alice Cottrell.

Dunn sat as one dazed, but he betrayed no emotion, no surprise, and there was nothing in his actions to indicate that he was the man upon whom the force of the verdict rested.

Mr. Colerick was not in the court room, and for a time Dunn sat in whispered conversation with the junior counsel for the defense, Mr. Morris. Later Mr. Morris pulled the jury and each juror announced that the verdict was his.

No motion for a new trial was made today, but Judge O'Rourke stated at the close that the rights of the defendant had been fully protected, and that any reasonable time would be allowed in which to file such a motion if counsel for the defense desired to do so.

Dunn was brought from the jail to the court room in the patrol wagon, and the proceedings in the court room occupied but a few minutes. Dunn was returned to his quarters in the jail, and the court room was practically cleared in half an hour from the time the jurors filed in with their verdict. They had retired to the room at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, and had occupied twenty hours and forty-five minutes in their deliberations.

VIGIL A LONG ONE.

All night long Bailiffs Mason and Danley sat in the circuit court room, adjoining the jury room where behind locked doors and entirely shut off from communication with the outer world the twelve jurors wrestled with the monumental proposition before them. The court house was deserted save for a time early in the evening, when the force of white-clothed janitors placed the building in condition for today's business. Then they, too, departed and only the jurors alone in their room and the bailiffs outside remained in the big building.

During the night no word came from the jury room; no request for instruction; no wish for any of the material comforts permitted to the jurors was communicated to the bailiffs. Only the muffled and indistinct tones of the discussions reached their ears, but as it continued without cessation it may be accepted as an indication that the jurors took no rest, but continued steadily at the work before them. Indeed, there was little opportunity for rest had they been inclined to take it, for the beds which they have occupied during the past two weeks are packed up in another part of the building. After breakfast this morning the bailiffs stated that their charges were standing the strain well and showed little effects of their sleepless vigil.

WAIT FOR A VERDICT.

Early this morning there was a considerable crowd of spectators gathered upon the third floor corridors of the building in expectation that a verdict would soon be returned. They waited with admirable patience, but as the hours dragged along with no indication of a decision the enthusiasm and interest began to wane and the crowd of waiting men and boys began to dwindle away.

Inside the court room there was little doing aside from some matters in the routine of court work, and there were few attorneys present. Of the attorneys who have conducted the Dunn case only Mr. Morris was in court this morning, and his visit had to do with legal business aside from the murder case which has been absorbing public attention for the past two weeks. There was, however, among the attorneys and officials quite as much interest in the outcome of the case as is noted in the case of the general public. In little groups they sat about discussing the probable outcome and guessing at what might be the condition of affairs in the jury room.

Upon the street there were constant inquiries as to the agreement of the jury, and as the hours passed with no result the speculation increased. The jury room is upon the third floor at the northwest corner of the big building and passers-by upon the street could catch occasional glimpses of members of the panel moving about or standing at the window, alone or in pairs, evidently discussing some points in the case.

THE STREET STORIES.

Rumors of the standing of the jury at various stages of the balloting could be heard upon the streets, but not about the court house, where it is well understood that no communication with the jurors is possible and that such estimates must be entirely without foundation. According to the information of the man upon the streets the jury at various times stood 6 to 6, or 9 to 3, or any other ratio, and one was at liberty to place the balance of power upon either side he pleased. He could hear a rumor to substantiate it, and one was as reliable as another.

Up to noon the jurors had asked for no instructions and there was, of course, no way of ascertaining the nature of the matters upon which the jurors were unable to agree. Attorneys familiar with such matters professed to be as unable to hazard a prophecy as to the outcome as would anybody outside the legal profession. One was still able to find those who saw in the delay an indication of acquittal, as well as others who believed it meant an eventual verdict of guilty. Perhaps a majority, however, were of the opinion that there was much more likelihood of a disagreement and this feeling appeared to strengthen as the day wore on.

WAS NOT WORRYING

"I had just lain down to take a nap," said Dunn this morning to a reporter for The Sentinel who called at the jail to interview him during the wait for the verdict. Asked how he was feeling, Dunn replied:

"My cold is much better and I had the best sleep last night that I have had since coming to jail. I am not worrying; I don't intend to lose either any sleep or any meals. I know how this case ought to go, but I have made up my mind not to be surprised at anything."

Asked what he believed the delay of the jury in reaching a verdict meant, Dunn said:

"Well, it's hard to tell. It may mean disagreement. I have been on juries many times myself and I know it is hard to find even six men who think alike. They differ in opinion, and there's a whole lot of things to be considered in a case like this."

"What is your opinion of the make-up of the jury?"

"It looked to me like a very good body of men. There was only one that I had even a slight acquaintance with, though I knew more of them by sight. I haven't anything to say against the jury and I will have to be satisfied with what they do."

"One thing I will say," continued the old man, as he took a seat upon the floor of the platform leading to the upper tier of cells, "and that is

MUCH HARM DONE

BY PUBLICITY OF DETAILS IN STONE INCIDENT.

DIPLOMAT LOSES PATIENCE

CHAGRINED THAT LETTER IS MADE PUBLIC.

MAKES BRIGANDS SUSPICIOUS

CAPTIVE MISSIONARY NOW KEPT IN A CAVE.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 7.—Consul General Dickinson, of Constantinople, is greatly chagrined because the fact that he had received a letter from Miss Ellen M. Stone leaked out. He says it is calculated to seriously affect if not completely undo the progress already achieved. On two previous occasions negotiations with the brigands who abducted the American missionary were abruptly broken off by the former, owing to the premature disclosure of secrets, which the bandits regarded as being a breach of the understanding with them.

Mr. Dickinson informed a representative of the Associated Press today that it is absolutely indispensable if Miss Stone is ever to be released, that the course of the negotiations be kept inviolably secret. Her release is hopeless unless the brigands place confidence in the negotiators.

It is hopeless to expect the brigands to place confidence in the negotiations when they find that information which they regard as secret is constantly leaking out.

LIVING IN A CAVE.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 7.—The brigands having Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary, and her companion, Mme. Telka, in their custody were in Bulgarian territory, near the Turkish frontier, last week, according to authoritative intelligence. The captives were lodged in caves and fires were lighted to partly protect them from the severe cold. Since then the brigands and the women have gone to some place unknown.

MORPHINE CAUSED HER DEATH

MAY POSBINDER FOUND IN A DYING CONDITION.

Woman Was a Domestic in Home of
Prof. J. N. Study—Note
Indicates Suicide.

A woman going by the name of May Posbinder, who was employed as a domestic in the family of Prof. J. N. Study, of 208 East Wayne street, is dead as the result of taking a dose of morphine with, it is believed, suicidal intent. Death came at 11:30 o'clock this morning despite the heroic efforts of two physicians to counteract the deadly dose.

At 6:30 o'clock this morning, noting that the girl had not yet started to prepare the breakfast, Mrs. Study went to her room and endeavored to arouse her. Not being able to awaken the woman, and becoming alarmed at her heavy breathing, Mrs. Study at once telephoned for Dr. G. L. Greenwald. Dr. Morris Hurd happened to be passing the house at the time and he was called in. Dr. Greenwald arrived a few minutes later and the physicians applied every means of restoration without avail.

As far as can be learned the woman had never taken morphine previously. A drachm bottle of the drug was found on the dresser of the woman's room containing about half the original quantity. A small quantity was found scattered about on the top of the dresser, and it is presumed that between five and ten grains were swallowed by the unfortunate woman.

It was at first thought that death was accidental, the physicians believing that the woman took the morphine without properly understanding its deadly properties. When Undertaker Schone arrived to prepare the body for burial he found a note under the woman's pillow which read as follows:

"Mrs. Study, if I die please call up Billy, 1474, and tell him I am dead and my right name is Theresa Fosbinder, Oldenburg, Ind."

The "Billy" referred to in the note is William Volmering, employed in the store of Hugh Worncastle & Co., at 100 Barr street. Mr. Volmering was seen by a reporter and made the following statement: "I have known May Fosbinder since last spring and have been keeping company with her for several months. Yesterday afternoon she came to the store and telephoned to Mrs. Study that she wouldn't come home for supper. We went down town and had supper at the restaurant at the corner of Lewis and Calhoun streets. About 9 o'clock she said she was going home and that she wanted to get something in the drug store, so I waited at the corner of Wayne and Calhoun streets while she got it and then I took her home. She never at any time led me to believe she was going to kill herself. She was in a delicate condition. She was perfectly cheerful when I left her."

The dead woman was the wife of "Dr." J. I. Durham, a patent medicine fakir, who deserted her last spring after some sensational escapades in Baldwin, in the eastern part of this county, which were detailed in The Sentinel at the time. She had been in the employ of Prof. Study for six months, and had never given the family any reason to believe that she contemplated suicide. When her husband left her she resumed her maiden name, Fosbinder, and sent their only child to the home of her parents in Oldenburg, O., to be taken care of.

The unfortunate woman was about 27 years old, and has no relatives in this city. Relatives living in Oldenburg have been notified, and they are expected in the city today or tomorrow to take charge of the remains.

THREE DIE IN A COLLISION

TRAINMEN LOST LIVES AT SPRINGFIELD, MO.

Switch Engine and Double Header of Freight Train—Bodies Are Badly Mangled.

Springfield, Mo., Nov. 7.—In a collision between a switch engine and a double header freight on the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad here early today three trainmen were killed. The dead:

William Nichols, engineer.
Harry Rusin, fireman.
John Tyrner, switchman.

The engineer and fireman of the switch engine were scalded to death. Switchman Tyrner was standing on the switch engine tender, and was so badly mangled that his body was picked up in pieces.

TWO SMALL FIRES.

A fire originating from a most unusual cause took place this morning at 7 o'clock in the barn belonging to Mrs. J. W. of 112 St. Mary's avenue. Some one dropped a lighted match into a drain and there was a loud explosion, the flames igniting some loose straw in the barn. The damage was very slight.

An alarm at 7:49 o'clock this morning called the department to No. 286 West DuWald street, where a small shed belonging to John Hall was ablaze. The damage amounted to $12. No cause for the fire was known. A small shed on the adjoining property, belonging to William E. Cornell was scorched.

BURGLARIOUS INTENT.

Joseph Getz, of the Red Front cigar store, had a peculiar experience last night. He arrived home rather late and was informed by his wife that earlier in the evening their dog had barked considerably and that she believed someone had been on the premises. Mr. Getz investigated and found in his back yard a patent leather shoe and a bottle containing something which he believed to be ether. He said nothing to his family, but this afternoon submitted his find to the police department. Mr. Getz is of the opinion that someone had attempted to enter his house by a rear porch and had intended to use the ether to stupefy the household, but was scared away. The department is investigating the case and Dr. Macbeth is investigating the bottle.

DUEL WITH REVOLVERS.

Marion, Mo., Nov. 7.—A duel with revolvers was fought on the principal street here today between Mann Holman and Junior Meredith. Both men were shot and are dying. Trouble arose over a game of cards and culminated in the street duel.

USED MACCABEE CASH

Supreme Finance Keeper Thompson Confesses Himself De- fault to Extent of $57,000.

INDEMNITY BOND SAVES ORDER

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 7.—Charles B. Thompson, of this city, supreme finance keeper of the supreme tent, Knights of the Maccabees, is a self-confessed defaulter in the sum of $57,000. The order, however, is protected from loss by Thompson's surety bond.

The shortage is acknowledged in the following letter to D. P. Markey, supreme commander of the order:

"D. P. Markey, Supreme Commander K. O. T. M.: Dear Sir.—It is with a feeling of distress and shame that I tender herewith my resignation as supreme finance keeper of the order of which you are the head. And this step is taken with a bitter realization that I am no longer worthy the companionship and association of my fellow officers. I have held the position since the order was founded, have during most of that time been officially associated with the present supreme officers and never until now did I in any way betray my trust. I was engaged in a legitimate business venture in which I had made a large investment, and found myself in a position when further money was necessary to save myself from bankruptcy and ruin. There was apparently no chance for loss. I then betrayed my trust and used the funds of the order, at the time believing there was no question of my ability to replace them within a short time. The amount I used was $57,000. I have no hope of being able to repay this amount. I know the order is protected from loss by the surety bond of nearly twice the amount in a perfectly responsible company, but this did not lessen my mental suffering nor relieve me from the disgrace of having betrayed the confidence reposed in me. Nothing that may occur can increase the tortures which I have suffered, and am still suffering. I can only await such action as may be taken and abide the consequences. No punishment can be greater and no suffering so intense as that resulting from the loss of the respect and esteem of the membership of the order and the suffering necessarily caused to my family.

(Signed.)

"Charles B. Thompson."

MR. MARKEY TALKS.

Supreme Commander Markey this afternoon made the following statement in regard to Mr. Thompson's shortage:

"Charles B. Thompson has been supreme finance keeper of the supreme tent since it was organized in September, 1883, and has handled and disbursed more than $15,000,000 during that time, and until this defaultation no thought has ever been entertained against his integrity and this betrayal on his part will be keenly felt by membership. The supreme tent keeps on deposit large amounts of money in leading banks in several commercial centers on which warrants are drawn for the payment of death claims, but all collections are made through the Commercial bank of Port Huron, and it is a part of the duties of the supreme finance keeper to transfer from time to time from the Commercial bank to these other depositories money for the purpose of keeping the account good at such banks, and the money that was used in this case by Mr. Thompson was on a draft transferring from the Commercial bank to the First National bank of New York. Mr. Thompson's shortage is $57,000, but no loss will be incurred by the supreme tent, as every financial officer of the association, including Mr. Thompson, is bonded in surety companies, and the bond held by the order as security for Mr. Thompson's integrity is very much greater than the shortage. But the fact that no pecuniary loss is not sustained does not relieve from regret the membership of the association who have been, up to the present time, able to say that no officer in the association has ever misappropriated a single dollar's worth entrusted to his care. The bond companies have been notified of Mr. Thompson's defaultation and the supreme tent will look to them to make good the amount. Pending an adjustment with the bond companies there will be no delay in the payment of death claims, as the order has on deposit in cash on the first day of this month in its various depositories throughout the United States a little more than half a million dollars, besides having bonds amounting to more than $1,120,000."

It is said that Mr. Thompson, who was interested in the late carrying trade, lost $75,000 in June on the sale of the steamer Harlem.

The shortage was discovered last Tuesday by Supreme Commander Markey, who was examining the books of the order. On being confronted with the shortage Thompson broke down and confessed. He then signed a confession drawn up by Commander Markey. It has been impossible to locate Thompson since the matter leaked out at noon today.

CARTER TO GET NEW TRIAL

EX-CAPTAIN OF ENGINEERS
HEARS THE NEWS.

Will Have a Civil Hearing in United States Circuit Court in Chicago.

Leavenworth, Kas., Nov. 7.—Oberlin M. Carter, ex-captain of engineers in the regular army, now confined in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, has been notified of the granting of a civil trial in the United States circuit court in Chicago in connection with the suit instituted there by the government to take his property.

Col. L. D. Carter, his uncle, I. Stanton Carter, his brother and Horace Stone, a Chicago attorney, have been here in consultation with the prisoner, gathering information for the approaching trial. The purpose is to try at this trial to introduce evidence that Captain Carter asserts was excluded at the court martial and which, he claims, would have established his innocence. Just before he started for Chicago Colonel Carter said: "Captain Carter and his friends are much pleased over the prospect of a hearing in a court of justice at last. My nephew has offered to turn over all his property to the government pending a fair trial in a court of justice."

"MOOT" COURT TRIAL.

The Blackford club, composed of the younger members of the bar in the city, have arranged to have "moot" trials every Saturday night in the circuit or superior court rooms during the winter months. A number of high school boys have interested themselves in the court, and they are arranging to furnish criminals, witnesses, court officials and probably a portion of the jury. The members of the Blackford club will act as judges and attorneys for the prosecution and defense, besides forming a major portion of the jury. It is probable that a case will be tried before the "moot" court next Saturday night.

SERIES OF SCHOOL CONCERTS.

Prof. William Miles, director of music in the city schools, has about completed programs for the series of concerts to be given in a number of the city schools this winter. The concerts will take place in those schools which have purchased pianos and the proceeds will be used to pay the pupils' share of the cost of the instruments, the city paying one-half and the pupils the other. The first concert will take place in the Hanna street school on Friday, November 22nd, and a concert will be given in the Bloomington school on Wednesday afternoon, November 27th. The children are rehearsing the programs to be given on these occasions, and a musical treat is promised.

PRINCESS VIROQUA, M. D.

Endorses Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound After Following Its Record For Years.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Health is the greatest boon bestowed on humanity and therefore anything that can restore lost health is a blessing. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a blessing to State and Nation. It cures her mothers and daughters and makes them well and strong."

PRINCESS VIROQUA, Practising Physician and Lecturer.

"For fifteen years I have noted the effect of your Vegetable Compound in curing special diseases of women."

"I know of nothing superior for ovarian trouble, hemorrhages, and it has prevented hundreds of dangerous operations where physicians claimed it was the only chance to get well. Liberation and infirmation of the womb has been cured in two or three weeks through its use, and as I find it purely an herbal remedy, I enthusiastically give it my highest endorsement."

—Everett M. Jones, Dr. P. Viroqua, Lansing, Mich. —$3000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

If you are ill do not hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. for special advice; it is entirely free.

INQUIRY IS ENDED

SCHLEY CASE IS NOW WITH THE JUDGES.

LAST SESSION HELD TODAY

JUDGE ADVOCATE LEMLY IS LAST TO SPEAK.

URGES GOVERNMENT'S CASE

DISCLAIMS ANY INTENT TO PROSECUTE.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Judge Advocate Samuel C. Lemly today made the concluding argument in the Schley court of inquiry. There was no forenoon session of the court, and the judge advocate did not have an opportunity to begin his address until 2 o'clock. He read from manuscript, but spoke in clear and distinct tones. The first half of the address was devoted to consideration of points made by Mr. Rayner and Captain Parker in Admiral Schley's behalf and the latter half was a general review from the government point of view of the evidence.

CAPTAIN LEMLY BEGINS.

Captain Lemly said: "With the conclusion of the very brief address with which I shall close the argument in this inquiry, my principal connection with it ceases and the matter is left in your capable hands. I may add, that while my duties here have been arduous and necessarily somewhat painful, I am proud to have been associated with this distinguished court, which is to pass upon one of the most important questions ever considered by a naval court—a question, as I defined it in the early course of the proceedings, between the applicant and the morale of the service. In entering upon my duties as judge advocate of the court, I had in mind advice given me by the secretary of the navy soon after my appointment, as follows: "Admiral Schley asks for a court of inquiry. A perfectly impartial court is constituted. The judge advocate and any counsel assisting him are not (and their duty in this respect is plain) in court to prosecute anybody or to find anybody guilty, but to bring out the facts and aid the court in declaring the truth."

"I have endeavored to follow this advice without fear or favor. If I have appeared to fail in maintaining that impartial attitude which I feel and have always felt towards the applicant, it is because aggression, however natural on the part of earnest counsel, begets aggression, and for the further reason that in many instances throughout the investigation honest difference of opinion has compelled me to be earnestly contentious in order to adduce what I believed to be material facts."

DEPARTMENT NEUTRAL.

"I deem it not inappropriate that I should here remark that the navy department in this matter has maintained an entirely neutral attitude; that I have not been interfered with by it in my conduct of the case; that, as the record demonstrates, there has been no attention of the department's records; that officers on duty even in the much-abused bureau of navigation have freely testified in behalf of the applicant, and I am confident that the evidence adduced fully justified the views of the department, set forth in its reply of February 6, 1899, to the senate committee on naval affairs, wherein it is said of Commodore Schley, referring particularly to the naval battle of July 3, 1898: 'Where so much was achieved in this culminating battle and where his ship was such a conspicuous force in the fight, his conduct while in independent command prior to June 1, the record of which has been given above and which, by reason of its unsteadiness in purpose and in push and in failure to obey orders, did not meet the approval of the president and the department, was yet not permitted to stand in the way of his nomination for promotion to a higher grade for the part he took in the final triumph.'"

SAMPSON LOSES AGAIN.

The Schley court has declined to grant the request made yesterday by Attorney Theall, acting for Admiral Sampson, that the remarks of Captain Parker, concerning the fact that the Spanish steamer Goian lay in the harbor at Santiago for some hours after the arrival there of Admiral Sampson, be stricken from the record. Admiral Dewey, writing for the court, says that this action has been taken after careful consideration.

that I have told nothing but the truth from the start of this case to the finish, and my conscience has been clear from the first. I do not know any more about the death of that girl than one who was never at Wallen."

"You spoke of jury duty; did you ever sit upon a jury in a case of this sort?"

"Not in a murder trial," replied the old man. "I would not sit upon a jury in a case where murder was charged."

Dunn evinced considerable displeasure at the testimony of several witnesses who testified to his bad character, and thought they had been unjust to him, and asserted that nobody could truthfully charge him with the mean acts that had been attributed to him.

He was asked as to his future intentions in the event of an acquittal, and replied:

"I suppose the only thing I can do is to go back to Wallen and look after what business I may have left. My property there has been for sale ever since before I moved there. I took it on a trade and my son has been trying to sell it. I did not own the house we lived in and my household goods have been stored, part of them in the city and part in the mill office at Wallen."

"The newspapers have treated me pretty fairly," said he, as the reporter turned to leave. "I have no complaint upon that score. There is nothing to do now but wait for the finding of the jury. I'm going to do that patiently."

A POWERFUL PLEA.

The closing address on behalf of the state in this case, delivered Wednesday afternoon by Judge Samuel M. Hinch, was a powerful effort, masterfully argumentative and delivered with all the force and vigor of Judge Hinch's conspicuous ability as an advocate. Through his long professional career in Fort Wayne Judge Hinch has participated in many of the cases where capital crime was charged, and while it has been some years since he last appeared as a prosecutor, his effort Wednesday demonstrated that he has lost none of the cleverness, earnestness and force that have always characterized his eminent career. After more than two weeks of daily application to the work of trying the case Judge Hinch spoke for four hours, and his appearance at the close bore out his assertion that he was prepared to continue several hours longer if it were necessary.

Considerably more than half of his time Judge Hinch devoted to a resume of the testimony in the case, taking up the evidence of each witness for the state and analyzing it to the jury to make clear the application made by the prosecution. In summing it up he said: "The state asks nothing more than that you weigh and investigate all the testimony before you reach a decision. We believe the defendant is guilty, but we are not standing here asking his conviction upon any other basis than that the evidence proves him to be guilty." Considerable attention was given to the medical testimony, and Judge Hinch then drew a powerful picture of the manner in which the state had claimed the crime was committed, detailing the affair step by step with impressive dramatic power.

Judge Hinch asserted that the theory that the girl had fallen into the cistern accidentally was ridiculous, and that neither of the theories of the defense was tenable. He argued, also, that a case had been made out by the state even with the testimony of Marie Sampson omitted from consideration. Then came another portrayal of intense dramatic power as the attorney pictured the deplorable life of Marie Sampson, throwing about her crying ways little of "censure but much of pity. He cited the readiness with which a fallen man who evidenced a desire to reform was received by the world, and contrasted with it the scorn and rebuffs which are the portion of a woman under similar circumstances. In closing Judge Hinch briefly sketched again the leading points in the great mass of evidence, and said: "Gentlemen of the jury, you have the case; you have heard all the testimony. Weigh it well. I believe the evidence in this case warrants the finding of Charles Dunn guilty."

JUDGE O'Rourke's CHARGE.

There had been profound silence during the delivery of Judge Hinch's powerful plea, and as he ceased speaking there was a momentary buzz about the court room. It was soon stilled, however, and without delay Judge O'Rourke began the delivery of his instructions to the jury. The charge was written and Judge O'Rourke read the words slowly and distinctly, while the jurors bent forward to listen.

Judge O'Rourke read the indictment under which Charles Dunn had been on trial, and cited the statutes defining murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree, and manslaughter. He explained that the defendant is presumed to be innocent until the contrary is proved, and where there is a reasonable doubt as to whether his guilt is satisfactorily shown, he must be acquitted. The jurors are judges of the law of the credibility of witnesses, and all reasonable doubts are to be solved in favor of the defendant. A juror ought not to condemn unless the evidence excludes from the mind all reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the accused. It must be such certainty as would justify to the mind action, not only in matters of importance, but in those of the highest import, involving the dearest interests.

Judge O'Rourke explained the methods of procedure in the consideration of the counts of the indictment as relating to degree of crime, and said that before a conviction could be rightfully claimed by the prosecution the truth of every material averment contained in the indictment must be proved to the satisfaction of the jury beyond a reasonable doubt. Mere preponderance of evidence is not sufficient to convict in a criminal case. The court showed Charles Dunn to have killed Alice Corbitt in the attempt to commit rape upon her person, as charged in the indictment, he should be found guilty of murder in the first degree. The jury has no right to disregard the testimony of the defendant on the ground alone that he is the defendant and is charged with the commission of a crime. Judge O'Rourke explained the legal definition of the crime of rape. He stated that each juror acts for himself in coming to a conclusion, and acts upon his own conviction as to the guilt or innocence of the accused. Although it is true that in case any one of the jurors entertains a reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the defendant, he ought not to find him guilty; yet such doubt in the minds of one or more of the jurors ought not to control the actions of other jurors as to compel them to give a verdict of acquittal if they believe from the evidence the defendant is guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

It is your duty, continued Judge O'Rourke, to consider the good character of the accused, for humanity and kindness of heart, if proven, as an element to be taken into consideration in determining his guilt or innocence, yet if you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt of the guilt of the defendant, the fact of his good character for humanity and kindness of heart, if proven, would not avail him as a defense, nor would it entitle him to an acquittal. As a matter of law, circumstantial evidence is just as legal and just as effective as any other evidence, provided the circumstances are of such character and force as to satisfy the minds of the jury of the defendant's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

Where it is claimed that a witness has been impeached by acts and conduct indicating a want of moral rectitude, and where there is a conflict between such witnesses and others, it is of the greatest importance to consider all the facts and circumstances attending the conflicting evidence to endeavor to find out the truth, and in facts and circumstances support and corroborate the evidence of the witness that it is claimed is impeached on account of immoral acts and conduct, a jury is authorized to receive and act upon the evidence of such witness notwithstanding the acts of immorality and misconduct referred to. Reason, common sense and experience come to our assistance. Such matters may be safely submitted to the intelligence and discrimination of a jury.

In a case like this, where the evidence is all circumstantial, it is necessary, before there can be a conviction, that every necessary link in the chain of circumstances must be proved beyond a reasonable doubt, although some of the circumstances may be clearly proven beyond all reasonable doubt, yet if other necessary circumstances are not proven beyond all reasonable doubt, then you should acquit the defendant.

The court instructed that the fact that the grand jury had returned an indictment against the defendant does not raise any presumption of his guilt, and is not to be considered in arriving at a verdict. Concerning the value of expert testimony, the judge stated that unless the facts upon which the opinion of an expert are established were proved, it would be the duty of the jury to disregard the opinion founded upon them. The evidence bearing upon the moral character of Marie Sampson was to be considered only for the purpose of affecting her credibility. In conclusion, Judge O'Rourke said:

"In order to authorize the conviction of a person of crime a high degree of certainty of proof is necessary—which the law denominates certainty of guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. But while this is true, mathematical or demonstrative certainty is seldom attainable and never required in judicial proceedings. Human tribunals must rest their judgments on the testimony of men and the facts and circumstances attending every transaction submitted to their determination. The best evidence obtainable to decide a case is required and in a criminal case such evidence should produce in the mind moral certainty to the exclusion of reasonable doubt. In the determination of every question submitted to a court, relying upon human testimony, there is a possibility of making a mistake. But while this is true, we must continue to decide questions of fact submitted to us, employing the best lights we may have to discover the truth."

It was 5:30 o'clock when Judge O'Rourke completed his charge and the jurors retired to their room to begin their deliberations.

WORK OF THE BAILIFF.

During a trial of this magnitude an important position is that occupied by the bailiff—in the present case Joseph N. Mason, who for nearly six years has been bailiff of the Allen county circuit court. From the time the jury is impaneled until the jurors are discharged they are under the continuous charge of the bailiff. He lives with them, sees that their needs are supplied, accompanies them upon the walks for exercise and stands a barrier between the jurors and the inquisitive public. It is a tiresome task, second alone to that of the jurors themselves, but in the present instance the duty has been tirelessly and conscientiously performed. This is the third trial for murder at which Mr. Mason has been in charge of the jury and he is unfailingly attentive and courteous, though unceasingly vigilant, and has done his duty well. His courtesy to the newspaper men in the court room has been highly appreciated by the writers who have been at work upon the case, and Mr. Mason has been ably assisted by John Daitley, another veteran at the work.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous membrane, such articles should be used with extreme precaution from reputable physicians. As the danger they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. THE DEATHS.

HUME.

Mrs. Anna P. Hume, residing at 260 Highland avenue, died this afternoon at 2:30 from apoplexy. Mrs. Hume was 78 years old and leaves three sons and two daughters: Dr. Charles, of Andover, I. T.; Frank and Will, of Medina, Mich.; Miss Alice Hume and Mrs. O. B. Pitt, of this city. Mrs. Hume has resided in Fort Wayne for ten years. She was born in Bergen, N. Y., and was the widow of the late Roderick R. Hume, who died twenty-four years ago. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

GOSPEL IN POEM AND STORY.

Rev. Asner S. Preston, of Wayne street Methodist Episcopal church, will talk for the next three Sunday evenings on the following subjects: Nov. 10th, "James Whitcomb Riley and His Poems of the Heart;" Nov. 17th, "Lito Melama; a Tale of Old Florence, by George Eliot;" Nov. 24th, "Eugene Field and His Poems of the Soul."

SCORES MORGAN AS TO WINE.

Baltimore, Nov. 7.—J. Pierpont Morgan has been publicly criticized from the pulpit because of the wine he drinks. Rev. J. S. B. Hedges, of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, of this city, heard that Mr. Morgan's wine cost $28 a bottle, and so he formulated a sermon, taking for his subject the lavish entertainment of Mr. Morgan's guests, of whom Dr. Hedges was one, at the recent church convention in San Francisco.

Dr. Hedges told how the banker had leased the Crocker mansion at San Francisco and spent from $60 to $100 a day on floral decoration and wine. How much of this went for wine at $28 a bottle or how far the wine went among the guests or how much was left for flowers the reverend did not say.

Mr. Morgan's grocery bill was $200 a day, too, according to the report of St. Paul's, who concluded with this remark: "I think we will all agree that these dinners were of too lavish a character and I regret very much that Mr. Morgan did not live in a more simple manner while at San Francisco."

RATHBONE STRIPPED.

Hamilton, Ohio, Nov. 7.—Judge Thompson, in the case of Mrs. Kate C. Athor against Major Estes C. Rathbone, formerly director of Cuban posts, has handed down a decision which cancels mortgages given by Mrs. Athor when she purchased from Rathbone an interest in the Riley block in this city. This decision cleans up the last of Rathbone's assets, which, ten years ago, amounted to $250,000.

WILL YOU WALK INTO MY PARLOR

Is what the spider said and is what some flashy "ads" are saying to Fort Wayne people. Do you remember when we were little children, we were taught, "A man of words and not of deeds, is like a garden full of weeds." When we say that we sell you underwear at 38c that no one else can sell you less than 50c, we tell the truth. Come and see, even if you don't want to buy. We did not deceive you when we told you we were giving a boy's long black hose for 10c, worth over twice the price—144 dozen of them just received. Don't let the boy's feet get cold. Our dollar underwear is 50c below our competitors. Our 38c work shirts are 12c below others. We have great values in every department.

OUR BARGAINS IN UNDERWEAR are no lottery. They are real, live bargains. They are a thing of the present.

Work on the new building will be commenced as early in the spring as the weather will allow.

FOOD FOR GIRLS.

Should Be Fed Just Right When Growing.

When parents are at a loss to know what kind of food to supply their boys and girls it will interest them to know of the experience of some mothers in the selection of food that actually does rebuild and nourish the young folks in their school duties.

A school girl in Springfield, Mass., writes: "I wonder if you care to hear from school girls, and I wonder, too, if you have any idea how many girls there are who are troubled as I was before I used Grape-Nuts Food."

"About a year ago I began to have severe headaches and could not sleep well. Was so nervous that I would cry at the least little thing, and finally began to have attacks of faintness. My parents were much alarmed and thought I would be obliged to give up studying. Our physician said my trouble was extreme nervousness and a disordered stomach."

"I was tired all the time and rode home from school because I did not feel able to walk. Mother tried to tempt my appetite in every way. Breakfast I did not care for. Meat I could not endure, and the different cereals I did not like as a rule."

"I attended the high school and we have an excellent lunch room in the building. As I kept getting worse, mamma said: 'I am going to try this Grape-Nuts Food that I see advertised, but I am afraid you will not like it.' Well, she got a package of it and it was so delicious in taste, with a little cream poured over it, that I liked it at once, and since then Grape-Nuts has formed the principal part of my breakfast. I have also bananas and orange, with now and then an egg."

"I wish you could see the difference in me. I cannot tell how much I have gained in weight, for I did not know my weight when I was ill, but the difference is great. As for strength, I walk both ways to school and do not feel at all weary from it."

"I can study much better and am entirely free from headaches. I am so well, in fact, that I am very happy. I fall asleep almost as soon as my head touches the pillow, and rest thoroughly."

"I am afraid my letter is lengthy, but my subject is Grape-Nuts, of which I cannot say too much." Clara L. Condon.

The mother adds to this letter: "I would like to add just a line expressing my gratitude also for the benefits which my daughter has derived from Grape-Nuts. Respectfully," Mrs. I. C. Condon.

The democratic party has not yet hit upon the correct elixir, though no end of doctors have ventured to prescribe.

Broder is going to expatriate himself again and retire to the bosom of consolation at Wantage. May he have smooth seas across and long defer his return.

That the situation in Philadelphia is worse than it was in New York is demonstrated by the results of the voting. New York revolted against corruption, while the Quaker City sticks to her foul wallow and will not be dragged away.

Until the democratic party encounters less difficulty carrying states that are really democratic prospects will risk otherwise good reputations trying to convince anyone that Ohio offers anything advantageous as a battle ground. Twelve years of unbroken republican rule is a historical fact that cannot be dislodged.

This observation by the Baltimore Sun is not altogether new, but it is the truth and as good and wholesome as though it were new: "Party organs are a thing of the past. A paper that throws in its lot with a party or the managers of a party, accepting their dictation right or wrong, cannot win that public confidence in the sincerity of its motives and its strictly newspaper character which in this day and time is the corner stone upon which any newspaper's welfare must be built."

The death of Li Hung Chang is a loss to China that the Flowery Kingdom will not at once realize. Earl Li was a statesman of the highest order. His proper rank may be well expressed by quoting what General Grant said upon his return from his tour of the world: "I have seen three great statesmen," he said. "They were Beaconsfield, Bismarck and Li Hung Chang." The popular mind is not apt to thoroughly conceive the greatness of Earl Li. Oriental statesmanship is not easily measured by western standards, but by whatever standard this great Chinaman's achievements in statesmanship are measured the conclusion must follow that he was one of the giants not only of his time, but of all time. He knew what no other Chinese statesman has known—what the civilization and genius of Europe and America were. He had studied these things by contact. He sought to leaven Chinese civilization with what he wisely conceived could be assimilated with orientalism. He was much mistrusted and frequently degraded, but the imperial court had time and again occasion to restore him to rank and power from sheer need of his services. He was a great man, faithful to his country, and his death is of great consequence in many ways to the civilized world.

MR. CLEVELAND IN PITTSBURGH.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 7.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland, who is to make the principal address at the founders' day exercises of the Carnegie institute this afternoon, arrived at the east end station in this city shortly before 9 o'clock this morning. He was accompanied by Mrs. Cleveland. When the train arrived there was a large crowd waiting to get a glimpse of the distinguished guests, and as they stepped from the car they were heartily cheered. The party was driven to the Hotel Schenley for breakfast and later taken for a drive through the parks. The ceremonies attending the celebration of founders' day began at 8 o'clock this afternoon. Among the other speakers were Joseph Jefferson, the veteran actor, and the well known artists, Robert W. Altman, of London, and John W. Alexander, of New York. Following the exercises a public reception will be tendered Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland in the art gallery.

FIGHT ENDS WEDDING FEAST.

Appleton, Wis., Nov. 7.—A silver wedding anniversary celebration had an unusual ending here yesterday when the aged wife brought charges of assault and battery against her husband as a result of the festivities. William Fehrmann and his wife, Marie, had barely seated themselves with their guests Tuesday night at a dinner in honor of their twenty-fifth marriage anniversary when a quarrel over domestic matters began. The argument waxed warm, and as the guests scattered it is said the husband hurled a plate at his wife's head. There was an immediate end to the anniversary celebration, and yesterday Mrs. Fehrmann swore out a warrant for her husband's arrest, charging him with assault and battery. It is intimated that divorce will prevent any subsequent anniversaries of the couple's marriage.

KITCHENER ON BOER LOSSES.

London, Nov. 7.—Lord Kitchener, cableing from Pretoria, under yesterday's date, supplementary details of the recent fight near Brakenlaagte, Eastern Transvaal, says:

"The Boer loss was forty-four killed, including General Opperman, and 100 wounded. The Boers got nothing beyond the guns. The Boer attack was easily repulsed until the arrival of Louis Botha, with 800 men."

A CRISIS IN JAPAN.

London, Nov. 7.—A dispatch from Kokohama, published in the second edition of the London Times today says the failure to roll bonds to the amount of $5,000,000 yen in America has temporarily shocked the stock exchange, where an influx of foreign capital was expected. The Japanese government has adopted a new plan to provide capital for the extension of the railroads and telegraphs, which are now yielding a profit of 7 per cent. It proposes selling immediately 10,000,000 yen in bonds to the postal savings bank, appropriating the surplus revenue to the railroads and telegraphs and providing for gradual sales of bonds in the domestic market. Foreign money will not be sought, except on favorable terms, as the steady in-flow of gold, resulting from prosperous trade, and a fine harvest also, renders easy domestic financial operations.

GHAISTLY FIND AT CHICAGO.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Eight human bodies were taken last evening from two crates at the freight depot of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railway. They were consigned to R. J. Jones, of Brainerd, Mo., and marked as second-hand laundry machinery. The bodies were purchased during the day from the Harvey medical college of this city and were being shipped to Missouri for purposes of dissection. The police are looking for Jones, but so far have been unable to locate him. The only charge that can be brought against him is the shipping of bodies in a manner contrary to law.

PRESERVE TRUST FORMING.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 7.—Seventeen of the larger preserve manufacturers of the country at a meeting in this city formed a combination to be known as the American Association of Manufacturers and Distributors of Food Products. The object of the organization is to regulate prices and sales territory and to secure a more just interpretation of the pure food laws. The companies represented at the meeting have a combined capital of $3,500,000 and control about three-fourths of the total production of the country. A central office will be established either in Pittsburgh or Chicago.

KILLS AN ENTIRE FAMILY.

Houghton, Mich., Nov. 7.—Felix Belanger, aged fifty-six years, strangled his wife and killed his nine-year-old daughter with an ax and cut his own throat with a razor some time Tuesday night at Winona. Belanger is still alive, but cannot recover. He had been worrying over a mortgage about to fall due on his farm in Canada for several months past and is thought to have gone insane through financial troubles.

VERY MUCH WANTED.

THE LAST FEW YEARS HAS SHOWN A REMARKABLE INCREASE OF SLEEPLESSNESS—HOW TO OVERCOME IT.

Sleeplessness is one of the most prolific sources producing weak, nervous and restless condition. There is no sense in using opiates—they only undermine the constitution. Nothing has ever been known to perfectly control this condition until the advent of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. Their action is so gentle and soothing, sweet, refreshing sleep follows, then nature has a chance to build up.

Mrs. E. S. Hiner, of No. 32 Calhoun street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "I think as a nerve tonic Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Meyer Bros. & Co's drug store, No. 14 Calhoun street, are just fine. I was nervous, felt restless and listless and did not sleep. The medicine soon brought me back to a condition of health and strength, with steady nerves and an ability to sleep naturally nights."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50c a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

THE NEWS OF THE POLICE

As a speedy actor Alonzo Weed probably is entitled to the championship belt. On October 20th, of this year, Alonzo was found in a state of somnolence on the street, his condition having been superinduced by copious libations of booze. He was locked up and on the morning of the 21st was arraigned in police court. He begged to hard that the judge's heart melted and he administered a lecture instead of a fine and allowed him to go on condition that he sin no more. This happened at 3:30 a. m., and at 1:30 p. m. Alonzo was again in the calaboose possessed of a jag that could not be measured. October 23 he was sent over for fifteen days and his time expired yesterday. He left the jail with a light and joyous step and likewise a well defined thirst. Shortly after noon Officer Schlaudroff picked him up gloriously drunk, west of Broadway, and by 2 o'clock he was once more back of the bars. Inasmuch as Alonzo proved to Judge Lottitt that he intended to remain a steady customer he made a little discount and sent him over for only eleven days this morning.

William Keck was found sleeping on the sidewalk on Clinton street near the Nickel Plate tracks yesterday afternoon. He was given lodging at the police station and this morning accompanied Mr. Weed to the Stout hotel, where he can be addressed for the next eleven days.

Officer Heller last night detected the smell of gas in the vicinity of Lafayette and Montgomery streets, and upon investigation found that the smell emanated from the Moeller warehouse on that corner. An examination of the premises was made and it was discovered that a gas jet in the cellar had been broken off in some mysterious way. The pipe was plugged and the house was ventilated to prevent a possible explosion.

The Bill Henze joint on Clinton street is no more. Two months ago Henze was granted a liquor license and reopened his shop. His old customers, however, were shaky of his place and his business was a dead one. A week or two ago he disposed of his place to a stranger and he continued to entertain such few customers as entered the place. Yesterday it was discovered that the place had been deserted and today nothing but the relics of faded glory remain in the building.

Jacob Brown, the feeble-minded youth who wandered away from his home on Hayden street several days ago, wandered back again Wednesday night. He could give no account of his absence. His return was promptly reported to the police department, which Superintendent Horsline says is an unusual occurrence. Persons usually report a loss to the department, but almost invariably neglect to report when the lost has been recovered, allowing the officers to keep right on looking out for the person or property until they discover the return by accident.

Peter Smyser reported to the police department that he had fallen over a barb wire obstruction placed at the corner of Main and Van Buren streets. The fall not only upset his dignity, but lacerated his pantaloons. This wire was on private property, to be sure, but adjacent to the street, contrary to the ordinances. The obstruction has been ordered removed.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

Councilman Ehemann's committee on interurban terminals is in session this afternoon in conjunction with the board of works and R. B. Hanna and his party of promoters and capitalists. The committee was called for 3:30 and expects to arrive at some conclusion sufficiently definite to permit of a report being made.

A new case of scarlet fever has been reported at No. 40 Marion street.

Attendance upon the public market is growing less with each week. Late garden truck is about the only thing that is offered now and cabbage predominates. Nearly all the cabbage offered on the market, however, is shipped in and is presented by the commission houses. The cabbage crop in this vicinity was a pronounced failure.

The sewer assessment committee held another short meeting last night and decided to publish the list of assessments in full.

The board of public works will meet this evening in regular session. No business of any importance has yet been presented for consideration.

Thompson, Bacon & Co., who have received the contract for putting down two new rock wells at station No. 2, have not yet commenced work, although they expect to in a very few days. The delay was occasioned by the failure of certain piping to arrive. The company has been informed by telegraph that the pipe has been shipped and as soon as it arrives work will be commenced.

Bricklaying in the deep trench on the South Wayne sewer has again been unavoidably delayed, although it is now expected that the bricklayers will be enabled to commence work in the morning.

Clyde Fields, formerly of this city, for the past two seasons with the Wallace circus as a musician, has returned to Fort Wayne to spend the winter.

BUILDING ABOUT COMPLETED.

The new dairy house at the school for feeble minded youth is about completed, and it is expected that it will be ready for operation by the first of December. The structure is of brick, two stories in height, and the dimensions are 28x44 feet. The lower floor will be used for the dairy machinery, which will be of the latest and most improved patterns, together with a big refrigerating room and wash room for the employees. The upper floor will be used as a dormitory for the inmates who will be employed in the dairy, of which there are eight. The structure will cost about $2,700. The new slaughter house is finished and will be put in operation as soon as the machinery is installed. The addition to the cold storage building is finished, and the additional story has been occupied.

GAME IS CANCELLED.

Owing to the fact that five of the regular high school players will be unable to participate in a game for one time it has been decided to cancel the game to have been played next Saturday at Goshen. The high school team has been singularly unfortunate this season and not a game has been played with every regular player in his position. Probably the last game the boys will participate in on the home grounds will take place on November 23rd at League park against Huntington.

FOG FALLS ON LONDON AGAIN.

London, Nov. 7.—The heavy fog which shut down upon London and half the country Tuesday, and which was partially dispersed yesterday afternoon, returned during the night, and the southern and eastern coasts were enveloped in a denser mantle than before. The Dutch mail boat Koenigin Regentes collided with the British third-class cruiser Prosperine off Sheerness, at midnight. The passengers and mails were transferred to the Prosperine and the mail boat was beached.

A GIFT FROM CARNEGIE.

London, Nov. 7.—It is announced that Andrew Carnegie will give £100,000 to build and equip a technical college in southern Scotland. The institution probably will be located at Galashiels, Counties of Roxburgh and Selkirk.

Nobility Recommends Nervine.

The above portrait is that of Countess Mogensrud, of Chicago, Ill., whose gratitude for the benefit received from the use of Dr. Miles' Nervine prompted her to make this statement:

"It affords me great pleasure to add my testimony to the very excellent merits of Dr. Miles' Nervine. Although I am past 50 years of age I find it cures the tired brain, quiet the irritated nerves and insures restful sleep. I never feel contented without a bottle of it in the house." EARL LI IS DEAD

GREAT CHINAMAN'S LIFE IS AT AN END.

KEPT UP TO THE VERY LAST

WAS AT WORK A FEW HOURS BEFORE DEATH.

HAD A WONDERFUL CAREER

ONE OF THE GREAT STATESMEN OF HIS TIME.

Peking, Nov. 7.—Li Hung Chang died at 11 o'clock this morning. Physicians who had been in constant attendance upon the great old Chinese statesman announced early yesterday that he could not survive the coming of another dawn. But he held to life with a tenacity that surprised even the physicians.

When the end came it could truthfully be said that this Chinese worker, upon whose actions momentous events have hinged, bravely passed away in the harness. At 10 o'clock Tuesday night he was sitting up and working in defiance of his physicians. He was weak, but in a

In that office, who will probably be Yuan Shi Kai, is appointed.

Robert Colman, an American, who is one of the physicians attending Earl Li, said today that when he was called to act with Dr. Volde, of the German legation, Nov. 1, he found the patient very weak from a severe hemorrhage, due to ulceration of the stomach.

OF PURE CHINESE BLOOD.

Li Hung Chang was born at Hefei in 1822. The place is a small village in one of the central provinces of China. His father belonged to an obscure Chinese family. The boy was without wealth or social position to advance him. He was an orphan in the hands of a million of other Chinamen about him. But he was pure Chinese. No drop of Manchu blood was in his veins.

His father rose from obscurity to some eminence as a litterateur. He won some reputation for learned disputation. Li took his first degree in the district examinations, and then passed through the next two degrees of Chinese scholastic honor—the provincial and imperial. He won distinction among 20,000 competitors at the imperial examination in Peking in 1840, and this honor gained him admission to Han-lin college.

ELEVATED TO NOBILITY.

Han-lin college is a training school for the Chinese civil service. The scholars receive the rank of nobles. They are eligible to the highest offices in the gift of the emperor.

Charles George Gordon, of England, Gordon of Khartoum, took his place, and between him and Li there sprung up the warmest kind of friendship. VICEROY OF CHINA.

With the end of the Tai-Ping outbreak Li became viceroy of China, and received from the emperor the yellow jacket and the prized peacock's feather. For twenty-five years he held the position of viceroy, and gave wide exemplifications of the broadness of his views.

He gave the first impetus to the introduction of western ways into China, only he maintained that Chinamen should do the introducing and operating, and that western men had no place in the internal affairs of his nation. He persistently sought to make his people initiative and creative, and to give them mechanical as well as mental individuality.

FIRST CHECK IN POWER.

The war with Japan gave Li his first check in power. He was opposed to the war from the first. He realized the unprepared condition of his country. He was positive that war meant defeat and humiliation for his nation. He was senior guardian of the empire and most powerful. His wealth was fabulous from the Chinese view. In 1894 he was one of the six richest men of the world and probably held that position at the time of his death.

Both as prime minister and foreign minister of China his influence was exerted to maintain peace with Japan, but the councilors of the emperor overruled him, war followed and defeat and disgrace. Strangely enough, the emperor held him responsible for the shame, took from him his yellow jacket and all his honors and came near to beheading him.

BACK IN ROYAL FAVOR.

Still, in 1896, he was again restored to royal favor and at the coronation of the czar of Russia represented China at that court. His rank and decorations were restored to him and he was given the title of earl and office of ambassador. On leaving Russia he visited the United States and many nations of Europe and was received with great honor everywhere.

In the boxer troubles of 1900 Li took small part. He was not held responsible for them and sided with the western nations in endeavoring to bring about peace and to protect the missionaries. He did not admire nor respect missionaries, but he did desire the friendship of western nations for China. He called the missionaries "trouble makers," but never countenanced attacks upon them by the boxers.

His power with the imperial court was not great after 1899, the reactionists having had control during the last three years. He was believed to have been cordially hated by the empress dowager.

ADMIRER OF GENERAL GRANT.

Li held the highest respect for General Grant. They met when Grant was on his tour of the world and became close friends. When Li visited this country he went to Grant's tomb and laid a wreath upon it. He entertained Grant at Tientsin, was photographed with him and held him in high esteem.

Li was six feet two inches in height, weighed 200 pounds and was a man of terrible strength. His habits were simple and his speech simpler. He was energetic in all his movements, a believer in work, and such a champion of China as that nation may not have for decades to come.

His immense wealth came largely from manufacturing institutions he was interested in as an investor. No accurate estimate of this wealth can be given, although it has been placed as high as $100,000,000.

THE MAN OF TASTE

He who has well defined ideas as to what constitutes well tailored, perfect fitting, fashionable clothing will realize his highest ideals in the suits and overcoats we're sending out. The good and true man is the man who is right within—is what he professes to be. No matter what your walk or standing in life may be, you admire a man with such a character. It is the same way with clothing stores. The good store is the one that is RIGHT WITHIN—the one that does just what it advertises to do—the one that protects its customers under all circumstances, regardless of its own loss in doing so. We have advertised to show you twice as large a stock of fine overcoats and suits as you could find elsewhere. You have found that our "ad" did not lie. Even after closing out so many lines of Yoke overcoats we can still show you over 80 styles of Yoke coats. We have the black and white overcoats in all the different styles. "Ryton," "Varsity," "Avon" and "Stanford." Regular overcoats by the hundred. Ulsters, box coats and reafers. Why think of going to a tailor for a fine suit of clothes when we can give you 50 patterns to select from for each one that any tailor here can show, fit you just as well, and give nearly all of them pointers on up-to-date styles. Fine overcoats from $10 to $25. Fine suits from $12 to $25. The best that's made is the kind we sell.

WHAT FORT WAYNE PEOPLE SAY OF IT.

Any itchininess of the skin is annoying. Little danger in itching skin diseases. But they make you miserable. Doan's Ointment is a never failing cure.

For piles, eczema, all itching troubles. Fort Wayne citizens endorse it. Mrs. M. Huggard, of 132 High street, says: "I used Doan's Ointment, sold at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store, for many different things, and I always found it to give a quick relief and soon effect a cure. I had something like the hives during the summer and I could find nothing to help them. They itched so where the skin was affected that I could not keep my hands off. I applied Doan's Ointment; it quickly disappeared and has not returned. I also used this remedy on a very severe cut on my hand and the way it cured that cut like magic."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

REPORT OF PANAMA'S FALL

THE LIBERALS SAID TO HAVE TAKEN THE CITY.

Other Dispatches Deny the Report and Say No Fighting Has Occurred Near Panama.

New York, Nov. 7.—The Herald prints the following:

From a source of information on the situation in Colombia which thus far has furnished no news not subsequently verified with wire, has been received the copy of a cablegram saying that the city of Panama has fallen and is in the complete control of the liberal party.

It is believed by the New York representative of the liberals that General Alban, the governor of the Panama department, is a prisoner, unless he has escaped by sea.

To A. P. Schervier, who is an active member of the revolutionary party in the United States, the cable message came at half past 9 o'clock last Wednesday evening:

"Panama, Nov. 6.—Rindierose Todo Nuevo, Publique.

(Signed.) "Saul." This is translated: "Government has surrendered everything. Publish."

The dispatch is signed by Saul Cortis, chief of staff, who was the officer in command of the troops of the liberal party who were assembling in Chama, several miles north of Panama.

At the headquarters of the liberal party in this city all were jubilant at the news of the fall of Panama. Dr. Restrepo, who is the head of the Junta here, said:

"All foreign interests will be protected. The isthmus will be kept open and the Panama railroad guarded from guerrilla attack if necessary. Everywhere where its government is established the rights of foreigners will be secure."

REPORT IS DENIED.
Colon, Colombia, Nov. 7.—(Via Galveston, Texas.)—There is absolutely no truth in the report, circulated in the United States, that Panama has been captured by the liberals.

No fighting whatever has occurred. The condition of affairs is the same as it has been for weeks past.

GENERAL JAMES HAGAN DEAD.

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 7.—Gen. James Hagan died at his home here today at the age of eighty years. He was a Mexican war veteran, joining Colonel Hays' Texas rangers and taking part in the storming of Monterrey. At the beginning of the civil war he was commissioned a captain and after the battle of Shiloh he was made colonel of the Third Alabama cavalry. The last two years of the war he was a brigade commander under General Wheeler. He was wounded three times, and before the close of the war was promoted to the rank of a brigadier general. General Hagan was born in Cleveland.

NO FREE SCHOOL BOOKS.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Judge Neely, in the circuit court today denied the petition of the board of education of the city of Chicago asking that the injunction be dissolved which restrained that body from furnishing free text books to children of the first four grades of the Chicago public schools. The court held that special legislation on the subject was necessary before the board of education could legally expend public funds for such a purpose. The injunction was granted some time ago on the petition of Peter Kilt at the instance of local Catholic educators.

FUR SEAL CATCH.

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—Not including the comparatively few fur seal skins which were brought directly to this port, the total catch in the north this season was 24,127. The Bering sea catch was 10,314; the Copper Island catch, 3,838; the coast catch, 8, 995; and the approximate Indian catch, 1,000 skins. The world's catch for this season is approximately 54,000 skins.

A DELAWARE FIGHT ENDED.

Washington, Nov. 7.—The president today appointed Robert G. Houston collector of customs for the district of Delaware. The announcement of the appointment followed a visit from Representative Ball of Delaware, and ended a controversy which has been prolonged for several years, owing to the dead-lock between the Addicks and Dupont factions. William H. Cooper, whom Mr. Houston will succeed, was appointed by Mr. Cleveland.

IT DISTRACTED HIM.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 7.—Peter Matczeko, of Cleveland, a Notre Dame student, in a fight over an injury sustained by a friend with whom he had been wrestling, shot

TO INSPECT HIGH SCHOOLS.

Indianapolis, Nov. 7.—The state board of education decided yesterday to inspect the high schools of the state each year. A list of 118 such schools that will be visited the ensuing year was prepared. The duty of visiting the schools will be apportioned among the members, and each member will submit to the board a report of the schools inspected by him, and upon the reports thus made the question of issuing new commissions or renewing old commissions of high schools will be decided. The inspection about to begin will be, says State Superintendent of Public Instruction Jones, the most thorough inspection of high schools that has ever been made in this state.

The board of education announced its intention to require of all high schools full compliance with the rules and regulations in regard to course of study, teaching force, sanitary buildings, library, apparatus, etc.

THE CHARTER CASES.

Indianapolis, Nov. 7.—A petition has been filed in the supreme court asking the advancement of the appeal in the action to compel the city controller of Fort Wayne to approve the official bonds of persons appointed by the governor as commissioners of public safety of Fort Wayne. The controller refused to approve the bonds tendered on the ground that the law authorizing the governor to appoint police commissioners for the city is unconstitutional. The circuit court has held the law invalid and the commissioners appealed last June.

Appellate Court Minutes.—Gottlieb Haller vs. William E. Gibson et al. Allen C. C. Appel's brief (3). John P. Evans vs. Olive L. Oden et al. Allen C. C. Record. Assignment of errors. In term bond.

UNRAVELING A CRIME.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—The police have located the room in which Antonio Natali, the Italian whose body was found in a barrel on the prairie last Tuesday, was murdered. They have also found the horse and wagon by means of which the body was removed to the lonely spot where it was discovered. The location of the room is being kept secret. The police discovered the room while acting on information furnished by a man now said to be under arrest. The walls were bespattered with blood. Two hatchets, also bloodstained, and believed to have been the weapons used in killing Natali, and a knife and necktie, thought to have belonged to the murdered man, were on the floor. Four men are under arrest now, and the police are searching for the fifth. The police are satisfied that robbery was the motive for the crime.

OIL TRUST WINS A VICTORY.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 7.—Judge A. S. Tibbets and C. C. Wright, referees of the supreme court of Nebraska, yesterday filed a reply in the case of the state against the Standard Oil company.

The suit was to debar the company on the ground that it was a trust and doing business contrary to the anti-trust law of Nebraska. The referees find that the evidence does not sustain the allegations of the state and recommend the dismissal of the case. The court will pass on the report this week. This case has been pending for one year, and at one time was made a political issue.

The term "infantry" was first used by the Spaniards in the wars with the Moors to designate the bodyguard of a royal prince or infant. It was extended to the entire body of foot soldiers and finally adopted throughout Europe.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—December wheat opened a shade lower to a shade higher today at 71 1/2 to 72 on weaker cables. There was a large demand, however, evidently to fill orders, and this in the face of light offerings kept them steady against falling cables. There were reports of an unusually large harvest in Manitoba that would soon be rushed to market, but there was also talk of the Russian fly in the Kansas wheat and the latter news brought about a rise to 72 1/2. The general undertone of the market early was firm, but prices eased off on profit-taking again and sold at 72 1/2. Local receipts were 111 cars, 9 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 531 cars, making a total for the three points of 642 against 623 last week and 557 a year ago.

Bull activity influenced by good demand and export business pushed December wheat to 72 1/2, closing strong, 1/2 higher, at 72 1/2.

December corn opened steady, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 higher at 59 to 59 1/2, notwithstanding considerably weaker cables. The steady influence was not so much a large business as a scarcity of offerings. Husking returns were reported poor and on some short covering prices for December went to 59 1/2. Receipts were 65 cars.

On covering by shorts December corn rose to 59 1/2 to 60, closing firm 1/2 higher at 59 1/2. December oats opened unchanged at 37 1/2 on the steady influence of corn. There was a moderate trade, with commission houses the best buyers. Offerings were light and on covering December went to 37 1/2. Receipts were 134 cars.

Provisions were tame and easier on a lower hog market. January pork opened 2 1/2 down at $14.50 and gained 2 1/2; January lard 2 1/2 lower at $8.50 and lost 2 1/2; and January ribs 2 1/2 down at $7.65 and eased a shade.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows: Wheat—Nov., 72 1/2; Dec., 72 1/2; 72 1/2; May, 76 1/2. Corn—Nov., 59; Dec., 59 1/2; May, 62 1/2. Oats—Nov., 38 1/2; Dec., 38 1/2; May, 40 1/2. Lard—Nov., $8.50; Dec., $8.50; Jan., $8.50; May, $8.50. Ribs—Nov., $7.65; Jan., $7.65; May, $7.65. Flax—Cash N. W., $1.50; No. 1, $1.50; Nov., $1.50; Dec., $1.47 1/2; May, $1.50. Hye—Dec., 56 1/2; May, 59 1/2. Bailey Cash, $1.50. Timothy—March, $5.82 1/2 to $5.90. Clover—March, $9.25.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Nov. 7.—There was heavy realizing in St. Paul and Union Pacific in the opening dealings. St. Paul ran off 1 1/2 and Union Pacific dipped an extreme 3/4 on running sales of 8,000 shares. The majority of stocks showed fractional gains and there was heavy absorption of Southern Railway at a gain of 1/4. Metropolitan Street Railway sold at 167 1/2 to 168 1/2, compared with 167 1/4 last night.

Room traders realized in the Grangers and Pacifics, but their offerings were absorbed at the decline and there were large purchases of other stocks. Before the first hour elapsed St. Paul had wiped out its loss and Atchafalaya, New York Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, Pennsylvania, St. Louis and San Francisco, Consolidated Gas and some of the metal stocks sold from 1 to 2 points above yesterday's close. Union Pacific rallied to 108 1/2, but later profit-taking in this stock and St. Paul caused the general market to ease off.

Heavy selling of the leading railroads and speculators drove some of them well below yesterday's close, despite the notable strength of other stocks. Declines from the highest ran from 1 to 1 1/2 in St. Paul, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific preferred, St. Louis and San Francisco, Metropolitan Street Railway and People's Gas. Meanwhile Sugar, St. Louis Southwestern preferred, Hooking Valley, United States Steel and Pacific Mail were lifted 1/2 to 2 points. This strength caused an abatement of the pressure elsewhere and the entire market was rising at noon. But hand preferred jumped 6 points and Northwest preferred 2. Bonds were irregular.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Nov. 7.—Money on call nominal at 4 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 1 1/2 to 5 per cent; sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.80 to $4.87 for demand and at $4.85 to $4.84 for 60 days; posted rates, $4.84 1/2 and $4.87 1/2 to $4.88; commercial bills, $4.83 to $4.83 1/2; bar silver, 57 1/2; Mexican dollars, 45 1/2.

THE BOND MARKET.

New York, Nov. 7.—Government bonds steady: U. S. Refunding 2s registered...100 U. S. Refunding 2s coupon...100 U. S. 3s registered...103 U. S. 3s coupon...103 U. S. 4s registered (new)...120 U. CURES ECZEMA AND ITCHING HUMORS THROUGH THE BLOOD—COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.

B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) is a certain and sure cure for eczema, itching skin, humors, scabs, scales, watery blisters, pimples, itching sores or joints, boils, carbuncles, prickling pain in the skin, old, eating sores, ulcers, etc. Botanic Blood Balm cures the worst and most deep-seated cases by enriching, purifying and vitalizing the blood, thereby giving a healthy blood supply to the skin. Other remedies may relieve, but B. B. B. actually cures, heals every sore, and gives the rich glow of health to the skin, making the blood red and nourishing. Especially advised for old, obstinate cases. Druggists, $1. Trial treatment free and prepaid by writing Dr. Gilling, 213 Mitchell St., Atlanta, Ga. Describe trouble and free medical advice given. Sold by Banks & Nussbaum, 38 Calhoun St.

A Grocer's Sermon for 1901

Are you satisfied with the prices you are paying and the quality of goods you are getting? Do you trade with a real live Cash Grocer, or with a 50 per cent. Profit Pass Book, paying two for one; one profit for the goods you buy, and one for the other man that cannot pay at all?

The age of the tallow candle, the mule team and the windmill is forgotten; the day of gas, steam, monthly pay and half profit is fast whirling by. The era of electricity and Cash is right before us. If you do not and can not buy for cash, you can see the following price list if only to show the ruinous and reckless rate of interest that pass book purchases involve and the little fortune that escapes you every year by dealing at stores that cannot offer the real live solid bargains in this age of close and withering competition.

THE LIVER.

Continually Changing Its Position in Its Auxiliary Formation of the Blood.

Every drop of blood that flows through our veins passes through the liver in its formation. Any habit or work that tends to check the circulation of the blood in its passage through the liver materially affects the health. Sewing, leaning forward at the desk, tight lacing, and all sedentary habits retard the circulation of the blood through the liver. The first symptoms of a disordered liver are flushing cheeks, the complexion becomes dark, showing a congested condition of the circulation. The pressure on the nerves is increased, the great nerve center, the brain, responds with violent headache. Other symptoms are dizziness, bad breath, coated tongue, pain above the eyes and in the rear and lower part of the head and neck, dull and tired feelings. The complexion gradually becomes swarthy and yellow, and oftentimes covered with blotches, which are typical evidences of torpid liver and sluggish bowels.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and Herb Laxative Compound acts gently on the liver, increasing its activity in its formation of the blood, giving a bright, clear complexion, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and all ills caused from a torpid liver and sluggish bowels. Pleasant to the taste, mild in its action and soothing in its effects. 40c and $1 bottles. Your druggist sells it. Sample bottle and book free. Pepsin Syrup Company, Monticello, Ill.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE

The county commissioners were transacting road business today. On the Ryan road, in Adams township, the report of the viewers was favorable and there being no remonstrance the road was established. The same was the case in the matter of the Kruse road in Washington township; in the matter of the Anspach road in Jackson township the report of the viewers was favorable, but a remonstrance having been filed, Frederick Meyers, Christian Gehrt and Fred Vanderau were appointed reviewers. A petition to change and vacate the Philley road in Wayne township was accepted, and David Dalman, John Gehhart and Herman Feltz were appointed viewers, and in the matter of the Waterson road in Lecler township Harlan Saylor, Oscar Barnes and John Flannigan were appointed viewers.

The board of children's guardians has awarded to Louisa Bradtmiller the custody of Marian Holcomb and to Carrie D. Simon the custody of Eva B. Blanche Shafer, both custodians entering into contracts to board, clothe and educate their respective charges.

The case of Shafer vs. Randall is still on trial before Judge Vaughn as special judge. The case is from the circuit court, but the trial is being held before the jury in the superior court room.

DESERTED HER CHILDREN.

Domestic troubles in a family residing on St. Mary's avenue, not far from the Nickel Plate tracks, resulted in the disappearance for a time of the mother and it was rumored that she had left town with another man. The story is untrue, however, as the woman has been located at the home of her sister, who resides in the south part of the city. She is the mother of five children, some of whom are now being looked after by friends. Efforts have been made to effect a reconciliation between the husband and wife, but so far without success.

The initial ball of the Epicurean club last evening was all that the club could wish for, both in a numerical and social sense. The grand march was led by James Murphy and Miss Florence Reilly. The ball took place at the Knights of Columbus hall.

LAVY

Coal Dealers Don't Like It.

Our Florence Hot Blast beats their time. They can't make much money out of it. It doesn't burn enough coal to suit them. They have been used to the old kind, consuming almost a ton of coal a day. Seriously, this stove is the most economical stove we know anything about. We use one ourselves, so we know what we're talking about. It will save its cost in coal in a short time. The Florence is here to be looked at. Call and see it.
